U.S., Canada Swap Moon Messages

Greetings Open New Radar Lab

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (AP) — Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker heard a voice message Saturday from President Eisenhower that had been bounced off the moon. The Prime Minister sent a reply the same way.

The greetings were exchanged at the opening here of a new Canadian government radar laboratory for joint U.S. - Canadian research in defenses against intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Emphasizing U.S.-Canadian cooperation, Diefenbaker announced that Canada expects to launch an earth satellite with United States aid in 1961, and will provide instruments for U.S. rockets. The new radar laboratory here is designed to work with a similar installation, the U.S. Millstone Laboratory near Boston.

The message from the President was transmitted from Millstone, 1,700 miles away. But it traveled about 250,000 miles to the moon, and back another 250,000 miles to Prince Albert—half a million miles in all—in 2.7 seconds. The message was recorded here a few days ago from the Millstone transmission.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker's reply was sent by land line to Millstone, and at the same time was recorded for transmission by way of the moon at a later time.

At the White House it was said the President would hear his own voice, as recorded from the moon, at his Gettysburg, Pa., home.

Although intelligible voice signals were successfully transmitted by way of the moon by the U.S. Naval Research Laboratory for the first time in 1954, John Kessler of the Lincoln Laboratory told newsmen in Washington the Eisenhower - Diefenbaker exchange was the best to date for the quality of voice.

The high frequency radio waves used do not follow the curvature of the earth, so that direct radio communication between Millstone and Prince Albert, 1,700 miles away, is impossible.

FUSE FIZZLES — A Rock Island passenger train with about 200 persons aboard rolled over this suitcase containing 99 sticks of dynamite near Des Moines, Ia. The train wheels apparently cut the fuse as the suitcase lay between the rails. Later someone moved the suitcase off the tracks and reset the fuse, but the dynamite failed to ignite. (NEA Telephoto)

Probers To Consider Big Business, Labor Roles In Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate racket probers are lining up a potentially explosive probe of what roles big business and big labor unions play in political campaigns, if any.

The objective is to show whether either side is flouting the federal corrupt practices law. This forbids unions and corporations from contributing to the campaign funds of candidates for federal office. Many critics contend the law is full of loopholes.

The committee's original entry into this field of inquiry last year erupted into a name calling row between Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, and Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz).

That fracas split the committee into party line factions. The group is composed of four Republicans and four Democrats. Among them is Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) who is regarded as a likely contender for his party's presidential nomination in 1960.

Many Republicans contend powerful labor unions at least stretch the law to support Democrats for political office, while many Democrats profess to see powerful business interests acting similarly to back conservative Republican candidates.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), the rackets probers' vice chairman, confirmed that Goldwater and Sen. Frank Church (D - Idaho) have been assigned to do spadework on the projected new probe. He said this was done at an unannounced closed door committee meeting.

Mundt said the two senators will seek tentative agreement on such controversy-laden issues as what preliminary instructions the committee staff should receive, what investigators to assign, and, as Mundt put it, "what areas of activity to go into."

Hymn-Singing Britons Welcome Billy Graham

LONDON (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham came back to London Saturday and walked into the sort of welcome that would make a movie star envious.

More than 1,000 hymn - singing Britons nearly mobbed him at Victoria Station. They were a youthful bunch and the hymn they sang loudest was the American evangelist's favorite "This Is My Story, This is My Song."

Graham emerged from the Paris boat train explaining that he will not be preaching in England this time but is taking a vacation.

He came from Australia and New Zealand where he said more than 3½ million people attended his meetings and tens of thousands made decisions to give their lives to Christ.

BRIDEGROOM-TO-BE, BROTHER KILLED

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (AP) — A young man on his way to his wedding and his brother, who was to have been best man, were killed Saturday in a head-on automobile collision.

Donald Henry Stoffel, 21, of Huntington, the bridegroom-to-be, and his brother, Bernard Joseph Stoffel, 20, were killed about eight miles north of here as Donald drove to St. Catherine's Church in Roanoke, Ind.

Life Cell Can Continue Under Space Conditions, Army Says

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—The Army announced Saturday that it has proved that life cell development can continue under space conditions.

The Army announced results from its egg fertilization experiment flown in the Jupiter intermediate - range ballistic missile nose cone last week with the two monkeys, Able and Baker.

Dr. Richard S. Young, biologist in the Army Ballistic Missile Agency's research projects laboratory at Redstone Arsenal said the result of the experiment was generally encouraging.

The experiment, using sea urchin eggs, was one of five test tube experiments flown in addition to the monkeys. All were recovered successfully.

The experiments were conducted under sponsorship of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Six vials were launched containing sea urchin eggs in fertilized and unfertilized conditions. The eggs in two vials were fertilized when they were placed in the cone about eight hours before the rocket was fired. The eggs in the other four vials were fertilized by a trigger action during the acceleration.

Young said that the prefertilized eggs continued to develop during flight, which included extreme vibration, exposure to radiation and about nine minutes of weightlessness. He said they were alive and still developing after they were recovered.

However, the eggs that were fertilized with sperm during the flight disintegrated. He said this may have been due to vibration encountered during the flight and re-entry.

Enjoin Strauss' Backers To Avoid Purple Language

WASHINGTON (AP) — No purple language. That's the word that has gone out to Lewis L. Strauss' supporters in the Senate debate over his nomination as secretary of commerce.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told reporters Saturday he had cautioned Strauss' backers to keep their tempers no matter how rough the going may become when Democratic critics start blasting at the nominee.

"This matter is of high importance and the debate should be conducted with the utmost dignity," Dirksen said. "I have urged the people on our side to avoid personalities and testiness.

"I want them to avoid flamboyance and purple language."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va), one of Strauss' supporters, said the approaching Senate vote on the nomination has international overtones.

"President Eisenhower has committed himself strongly in support of Strauss," Byrd said in an interview. "He has made it known he would not withdraw the nomination. Under those circumstances if confirmation is denied, it will be regarded abroad as something of a repudiation of the President."

The Senate will resume debate on the nomination Tuesday. Monday has been set aside for action on an appropriations bill. A final vote on Strauss may be reached late in the week, although it may be delayed further.

Some Democratic senators have accused Strauss of being devious in his dealings with Congress when he was chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. Sen. Gale McGee (D-Wyo), one of the most vocal of the critics, said Strauss "cannot be trusted to tell the truth."

Dirksen said he has made no polls of how senators stand on the nomination but retains the belief that Strauss will be confirmed. Chairman Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash) of the Commerce Committee, who is opposing the nomination, said he thinks 10 to 15 senators haven't made up their minds finally.

Magnuson's committee voted 9-8 in favor of Strauss.

'DON'T CLOWN'

CHICAGO (AP)—A hand signal accompanied by the slogan "Thumbs Down Means Don't clown!" has been adopted by the outdoor Boating Club of America in a campaign to promote safe boating among the nation's millions of water enthusiasts.

The OBCA said Saturday the signal and slogan was adopted as a reminder to thoughtless boatmen that clownish and irresponsible behavior afloat imperils the safety of others.

Violence Breaks Out In Kentucky Coal Mine Area

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — A dynamite bomb exploded outside the home of a nonunion coal operator and gunfire was heard in the hills of this strikebound eastern Kentucky area Friday night.

No one was reported injured in the renewed violence which took a third life Friday in the three-month-old United Mine Workers strike.

But one coal operator, who declined to be identified, said Saturday: "The operators have been pushed as far as we intend to be pushed. We can't take any more of this.

He didn't elaborate.

State police headquarters have reported no trouble since Friday when miner Bobby Jenkins Jr., 25, was shot and killed by a state trooper attempting to arrest him for shooting at a nonunion trucker.

But Lawrence P. Maggard, who operates a truck mine near Whitesburg, said several sticks of dynamite thrown from a passing car shattered the windows of his home before midnight. He offered a $1,000 reward for information leading to a conviction in the incident.

Other operators in a general area extending from here to Whitesburg, 40 miles away, reported shooting in the hills at many points.

The area has been the danger spot of the strike, called by the UMW to get a $2 daily wage increase to $24.25 daily and a clause prohibiting handling of nonunion coal.

Scattered gunfire has been almost a nightly affair. But the latest outbursts heightened tension in the wake of Friday's death and the wounding of another miner.

Chester Blair, 20, was shot in the arm and hand when snipers fired hundreds of bullets at a nonunion ramp near Sassafras.

One Million Persons To Help Test Theories About Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — This fall one million Americans will help answer this question: What elements in your daily life can lead to cancer?

The six-year project is the largest medical statistical study ever attempted in the United States, the American Cancer Society announced Saturday.

It aims to test some theories and suspicions about cancer, such as:

The possible relationship between some jobs and cancer; whether cancer strikes some families more than others; whether some other diseases set a person up for cancer; whether childbirth is associated with cancer or whether failure to breast feed a child leads to breast cancer; whether cigarette filters are effective in holding down lung cancer.

If you are chosen, you may be asked questions like these:

How much exercise do you get?

Do you often add salt to your food? Pepper? Catsup, mustard or spices? Mayonnaise or salad oil? Do you often eat ham? Pork? Hot dogs? Smoked or salted fish? Potatoes? Cooked vegetables? Fruit or fruit juices?

How many cups of coffee or tea do you drink each day? How many glasses of milk, soft drinks or beer? How many drinks of wine, whiskey, gin?

How often do you take regular or buffered aspirin, vitamins, sleeping pills, tranquilizers, laxatives or antiacids?

Do you or did you smoke? How much did you smoke and what did you smoke? Cigarettes, cigars or a pipe?

The study is based on a theory that most cancers are caused by factors in the environment, things people come in contact with day by day, said Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the cancer society's chief statistician.

Some everyday things like cigarettes are suspected cancer-causers. But many of the items mentioned in the study are only pieces of the whole picture, not known cancer-causing elements. Some are shots in the dark. Some are not suspected at all.

Which Is Which? Globe And Post Seem Well Mixed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Things were a bit mixed up today on the St Louis news front.

Saturday's Globe-Democrat and advance sections of the Sunday Globe-Democrat were printed Friday night at the Post - Dispatch building.

The Saturday Post - Dispatch was printed from the former Globe-Democrat building.

A supplement containing later news for the Sunday Globe is to be printed from the World Color Corp. plant in north St. Louis Saturday night.

The unusual situation arose with the first publication of the Sunday Globe - Democrat since the Post-Dispatch began printing the morning paper under contract.

The afternoon Post-Dispatch has purchased the Globe building and pringing equipment, but the Globe won't complete its move to new quarters until about Aug. 1.

The Globe-Democrat resumed publication last Monday after settlement of a three-month strike by the American Newspaper Guild. Until Saturday all editions this week of both newspapers had been printed at the Post-Dispatch building.

Mechanical difficulties with a water line at the former Globe-Democrat plant, where the printing equipment had been idle since the strike began Feb. 21, caused some delay in publication of Saturday's Post-Dispatch.

The brain of thunder lizard (Brontosaurus) weighed only about a pound. The animal weighed about 35 tons.

Khrushchev Threatens To Put Rockets In Albania, Bulgaria

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev threatened again Saturday to build missile bases in the mountains of Albania and Bulgaria unless Italy and Greece forget about plans for Western missile installations on their territory.

"I believe that the governments of Italy and Greece will be sensible and will not agree to subject their peoples to danger," Khrushchev said in a plea for a "rocket-free, nonatomic zone under mutual control" in the Balkans.

"To put rocket installations into motion means to start a world war, to plunge the peoples of peaceful countries into its abyss."

Beaming and suntanned, the Kremlin chieftain drove straight to the Sports Palace in Lenin Stadium for a rally of 20,000 people after arriving home from a 12-day visit to two Soviet bloc states, Albania and Hungary.

In several speeches in Albania he hammered repeatedly on the threat to counter missile bases in Italy and Greece with Soviet launching pads in Albania.

Italy has agreed to the building of NATO bases for American intermediate range missiles on her territory. Greece has announced no such agreement.

Khrushchev, in his 45-minute speech, said conditions in Albania and Bulgaria "are exceptionally favorable for the setting up of rocket. There are high mountains, deep gorges, there is enough room for rocket sites."

He asked this question: "If rockets are to be set up against us in the territory of Greece and Italy, why should we fire on them from a long distance (from Soviet bases) when we could destroy the opponents' bases with small rockets from the territory of Albania and Bulgaria?"

The Soviet Premier said Yugoslavia as well as other Communist countries had supported a Romanian suggestion for an atom-free Balkan zone.

"But unfortunately these sensible peace-loving Romanian proposals did not meet with the support from the governments of the non - Socialist (non - Communist) countries of the Balkan peninsula," Khrushchev continued.

"If this proposal meets with no support and the aggressive policy of the Western powers is carried on in the Balkans, the Soviet Union, together with all the countries of the Warsaw Pact, will be forced to set up rocket bases closer to the bases of the aggressors."

Khrushchev said the people of Albania are convinced "neither the Greeks nor the Italians, nor anybody else, would now dare attack Albania" because she is backed to the hilt by other Communist countries in the Warsaw Pact.

Italy and Greece are behaving unreasonably about permitting rocket bases on their soil, he said, because:

"It is impossible to believe seriously that little Albania intends to attack Italy or Greece.

"Neither has the Soviet Union such intentions—the Soviet Union which borders neither Italy nor Greece."

These Western-aligned nations are in favor of the bases he added, "in order to get up steam for carrying on the cold war. To provide no opportunity for lessening international tension or melting the ice of the cold war.

FEW PRIVATE ENTERPRISES IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA

VIENNA (AP) — There is less private enterprise left in Czechoslovakia than in other Communist countries, the Prague newspaper Obrana Lidu reports. It says the 366 private shops and 242 inns and restaurants left in the country account for only 0.2 per cent of the national retail turnover. The next lowest figure listed for the Communist bloc is 0.4 in Bulgaria.

Ike Reminisces About D-Day

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower gazed into sunny skies from his peaceful farm Saturday and reminisced about D-Day on this 15th anniversary of the Normandy landings.

The Allied commander of the 1944 invasion harked back to it in a chat with the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder.

After the talk, the President played 18 holes of golf in ideal weather and then took it easy in advance of a buffet supper at the farm Saturday night for about 200 guests from Washington.

The lawn party was arranged by the President and Mrs. Eisenhower for members of the White House domestic staff, some of the Presidents executive aides, and the Secret Service agents responsible for the Eisenhowers security. Members of those groups families also were invited.

Eisenhower did his D-Day reminiscing on the glassed-in sun porch of his country home at the edge of another historic battlefield—the site of the Civil War Gettysburg conflict.

Michigan '59ers Make Progress In New Alaska Homes

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The pioneering Michigan 59ers, reduced in number but gaining in determination, reported progress Saturday in building a farming community in the Alaska wilderness.

Sixteen of the original 34 who drove here from Michigan last spring have settled on the west side of the Susitna River 30 miles north of Anchorage.

They've planted crops, acquired livestock and are drilling a water well. New farm equipment has been ordered.

"Life at the homestead isn't easy," said Mrs. Nick Rubino, who made the trip from Detroit with her husband and 14-year-old son, "but there's been some fun to it so far.

"I never thought I'd like to cook on a wood-burning stove. But the other day I baked almost 100 doughnuts and several loaves of bread. I really like it."

The group is clearing land, building barns, planting crops. One log building has been constructed to grow starter plants that will be transplanted later to the fields. Next will be a barn to house livestock.

U.S. Paratroopers Re-Enact D-Day Invasion Of Normandy

SAINITE MERE EGLISE, France (AP) — American paratroopers floated down into the fields of Normandy again Saturday and marched into the village of Sanite Mere Eglise in symbolic re-enactment on this 15th anniversary of D-Day.

The American flag floated in front of the town hall of Sanite Mere Eglise by 4:30 a.m., June 6, 1944. The village claims to be the first French community liberated by American troops.

This time they dropped in broad daylight before the admiring gaze of several thousand inhabitants of the region. They were welcomed at the entrance to the village with soft drinks instead of murderous enemy fire.

The drop was made by 24 members of the 505th Airborne Infantry Regiment, now stationed in Germany. On D-Day, the 505th was part of the 82nd Airborne Division. Sixteen of those jumping Saturday made the invasion leap into Normandy. Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, wartime commander of the 82nd, was on hand for the commemoration ceremonies.

Several parachutists were trapped Saturday by trees and hedgerows but there was no damage. Two mares who were suckling foals skittered nervously about an adjoining field. Everyone landed in the drop zone.

It wasn't like that in 1944, the veterans recalled. The troops were badly dispersed during the massive drop in the half-light just before dawn. Some were hung up on trees and cut down by German fire before they could be released.

Two airborne divisions—the 82nd and 101st—were dropped before H-hour on D-Day. Gen. Gavin recalled that in the first 33 days of fighting, about 60 per cent of the 82nd Infantry group had been killed, wounded or listed as missing.

Those returning Saturday paid their solemn respects to fallen comrades in ceremonies at the town hall and at the monument to the 82nd Division in the tree-lined village square and at the local cemetery where the victims were first buried.

Earlier in the day, memorial services were held at the American Cemetery on the bluffs overlooking Omaha Beach and on the beach at the monument marking the spot the 116th Infantry Regiment of the 29th Division landed.

Members of all the American divisions which made the initial assault mingled with the crowd at both ceremonies.

Geneva Talks Deadlocked Over Issue

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union pressed on two fronts Saturday its demand that the Western Allies get out of West Berlin.

Khrushchev said "if no agreement is reached at the Geneva conference of foreign ministers, agreements will undoubtedly be reached at a summit conference."

But he declared the Soviet Union "will not consent to an agreement which would perpetuate the occupation regime in West Berlin."

Khrushchev added that the international situation is better now than two or three years ago. His statement was made to Hungarian newsmen before he returned home to Moscow after a visit to Albania and Hungary. It was considered mild in comparison with some of his recent speeches denouncing the Western position in the foreign ministers talks here.

Gromyko's stand on the Soviet demand that the Western Allies abandon their occupation of West Berlin was said to have drawn this response from the West: "Never, and there will be no compromise on this issue."

Gromyko met with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd in a two-hour session at Lloyds red brick town house.

After the meeting, responsible Western informants reported: "No sign of a break in the Berlin deadlock.

Gromyko showed no tendency to accept the Western plan for reaffirmation of Allied rights in West Berlin, a freeze on the size of Western troop garrisons there, and an all-Berlin curb on inflammatory propaganda and subversive activity.

Methodist Church Study Completed

A four-month study by the MacMurray sociology department of Methodist churches was completed this week with the publication of a 51-page report that will be distributed to those interested. Studying the report of Hettick, Scottville, Palmyra, and Modesto churches—left to right: Robert Lisensky, Assistant Professor of Sociology; Jeanne Bergsten, a junior from Tonkawa, Okla.; and Dr. Richard Nesmith, Chairman of the Sociology department and Dean of Men at MacMurray.

Similar to a study made by MacMurray sociology students of the Ashland Methodist church last year, this was a study also sponsored by the Town and Country Commission of the Illinois Conference of the Methodist church. It grew out of a mutual concern for the realization of a better church program in the northwest corner of Macoupin county, on the part of the Town and Country Commission, the Methodist churches in the areas studied, and the MacMurray sociology department.

According to Dr. Nesmith, the northwest corner lies in "somewhat of a high pressure area whose social action currents push outward toward the surrounding transportation arteries. Vast changes have taken place in the "corner" over recent years. An afternoon of conversation in any one of the country stores in the villages studied will note that 'there aren't as many stores in the community as there used to be,' and that folks sure run around all over creation.' Many of the people who reside in the 'corner' are quite aware that changes are taking place, but few have stopped to examine the total pattern of these changes or their consequences for the church."

"There, the purpose of this study is to facilitate a process of self-examination as a basis upon which the churches and communities of this area may deal with their changing circumstances with deeper understanding."

Population Decline

Thirty MacMurray students participating in the study discovered that there has been a 4½% population decline between 1940 and 1950 in Macoupin county, with all four villages studied suffering losses.

The study also noted that there was "a noticeable absence of men at many age levels in the life of the churches. . .a lower percentage of young people and young adults than in the community despite the fact that this is also a level at which the communities suffer a population loss. . .a lower percentage of elderly persons within the churches despite the fact that the upper intervals are comparatively high in relation to the lower intervals in the church analysis."

FREEDOM OF THE PRESS DAY

Free men have come to rely on their newspapers — purchased at the cost of a few pennies — as a barrier to suppression of their freedoms. Accurate and spirited reporting of events and personalities will forever act as a check on those who would corrupt or destroy democracy. June 7 has been declared Freedom of the Press Day by the Inter American Press Association—as a reminder to us all that, in the words of its president, Alberto Gainza Paz, "freedom of the press is not a privilege or a monopoly of newspapers, but rather a right that belongs to all of us."

Hold Hansen For Grand Jury; Court Denies Plea For Bond

CHICAGO (AP)—Duncan Hansen, a substitute science teacher, was held to the grand jury Friday on a charge of murdering his socially prominent former wife.

The body of Mrs. Susan Hansen, 24, was found in her home the morning of May 24, bearing wounds that appeared inflicted in a struggle. She had divorced Hansen, 28, a month earlier on grounds of cruelty, alleging he had beaten her and subjected her to indignities.

Mrs. Hansen is the daughter of Dr. George Shambaugh Jr., widely known ear, nose and throat specialist prominent also in society.

She was a distant relative of a Jacksonville family, both she and her husband having visited in the city several times. She was a granddaughter of the late Edith Capps Shambaugh, and a grand niece of Mrs. C. H. Rammelkamp, also of Jacksonville.

Denies Plea

Judge Emmett Morrissey, who ordered Hansen held to the grand jury, denied his plea for release on bail.

"I would be reversing myself," the judge said, "if I said presumption of guilt is great and held this man to the grand jury, and then set a bond when the law states there shall be no bond on a capital case."

Hansen had sought his release from jail on a writ of habeas corpus, contending the state lacks sufficient evidence to prosecute.

Judge Morrissey, who heard several witnesses before making his ruling, said testimony has placed Hansen at the scene of his wife's death on or about the time of the killing. Lack of evidence that a prowler had invaded the woman's home, the couple's divorce and its grounds and various other circumstances show probable cause for prosecution, the court held.

Tells Of Consultation

Dr. Zbigniew Godlowski, fiance of Mrs. Hansen, told the court that Hansen consulted him in July 1958 and asked him to intercede in the Hansens' marital troubles.

The doctor said he visited the couple the following month at a summer cottage. There, he said, Mrs. Hansen told him her husband had grabbed her by the throat, slapped her face and otherwise abused her.

Dr. Godlowski, under questioning, said he spent a night at the cottage after Hansen had left but denied he courted Mrs. Hansen until her divorce became final.

The court heard testimony regarding a wound on Hansen's forehead. The defendant said he had been hurt when a pole vault crossbar fell on him as he scored a high school track meet the day before his wife's death.

Pathologist's Report

His attorney, Charles Bellows, stipulated or agreed that a coroner's pathologist had estimated that the wound was suffered at about the time Mrs. Hansen was assaulted—but Bellows said his stipulation of this evidence did not mean he accepted the doctor's estimate as a fact.

Police said Hansen told them he found his wife dead when he went to the home to visit the couple's three children. A doctor said Hansen telephoned him from the home at 8:55 a.m. saying something had happened to Mrs. Hansen. Another witness testified he saw Hansen playing with the children outside the house at 7:22 a.m.

Detectives said that when they reached the house the body had been moved from the floor, where the doctor found it, to a bed. The doctor said when he first examined the body, wounds on the forehead and jaw appeared to have been washed of blood.

Robbery Suspect Requests Psychiatric Examination

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—One of two men charged with the April 4 robbery of the State Bank of Nebo pleaded innocent Friday and asked U.S. District Judge Charles G. Briggle to order him to undergo a psychiatric examination.

Attorneys for Danny Lee Pritchard requested the examination to determine his mental condition at the time he allegedly committed the crime. Cecil Ray McAfee, charged in the same indictment, pleaded guilty Thursday and was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Indictment Charges

The indictment charged that McAfee, 35, and Pritchard, 23, both of Chicago, invaded the home of William Benz, cashier of the bank, and forced Benz, his wife and child at pistol point to accompany them to the bank and open the vault. The gunmen escaped with $1,100.

McAfee was seized in Holland, Ky., late in April and Pritchard was apprehended in Chicago several days later.

Judge Briggle ordered the Pritchard case continued pending disposition of the motion for a psychiatric examination. He asked Pritchard's attorney to submit the request in a written motion.

In Other Cases

In other federal court action, Judge Briggle granted a request for three years' probation by Stephen E. Bednarski of (8753 Commercial Ave.) Chicago. Bednarski, who was stationed at Forbes Air Force base, Topeka, Kan., pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile in Topeka and driving it to Pittsfield, Ill., where he was arrested April 21.

Troop Activities

Brownie Troop No. 81 of Our Saviour's school, Mrs. J. Joe Doyle leader, has completed a successful year and is looking forward to a week at Camp Shagbark. They made dish bags out of dish cloths for use in summer camp. For Mother's day each girl presented her mother with a booklet of tickets good for each girl's service at some home chore.

To conclude the troop activities a field trip was held the latter part of May. They visited the homestead home of Mrs. Doyle at Alexander where Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kramp now reside. After a wiener roast on the premises, the girls explored the hayloft, visited other farm buildings and watched the animals. Highlight of the trip was watching Mrs. Floyd Sorrells milk a cow. Many of the girls had never been on a farm before. Nineteen girls made the trip. They were accompanied by Mrs. Doyle, Mrs. Sorrells, Mrs. Catherine Regan, Mrs. Grace Smith and Mrs. Mildred Trutter, assistant leader.

Domestic Art Club Closes Year With Two Events

CONCORD— Concord Domestic Art Club closed the year's activities with two lovely and successful events.

The annual luncheon was held at Southern Aire in Jacksonville on the evening of May 22. After the delicious meal a short business session was held and a social hour followed. This year the husbands of members were also invited.

Officers for the coming year were elected: president, Mrs. Dale Braner; vice president, Mrs. Warren Brockhouse; secretary, Mrs. Loyce Plank; assistant secretary, Mrs. Otto Nickel; treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Martin. The program chairman will be announced later.

The final activity was serving lunch at the Morgan Hall in Concord on Memorial Day. This is the second year for the club to sponsor this event. FIFTIETH AND SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY class members are beginning to gather on the hilltop campus for their anticipated reunions. Already in attendance in time for Friday's Osage Orange picnic were l. to r.: Carl Robinson and Mrs. Louise Robertson Harris, class of 1909, both residents of Jacksonville; Harry Dunbaugh, class of 1899, from Hubbard Woods; and Hugh Green, class of 1909. of Jacksonville.

PARENTS OF I.C. STUDENTS had their own table (foreground) in this year's celebration of the annual Osage Orange picnic. As always, the steps of Sturtevant Hall provide comfortable seats for the younger generation, I.C. students of the future.

SPANNING THE YEARS and great distances, Illinois College alumni return faithfully to the hilltop campus for what has become a traditional series of commencement weekend events. Shown here are I.C. alumni who have left their student days more than sixty years behind them.

THE ANNUAL LOVE FEAST of Sigma Phi Epsilon, Illinois College women's literary society, held Saturday evening in the Dunlap Hotel was typical of the annual meeting of student and alumni members of this and the other women's societies, Gamma Delta and Chi Beta on each commencement weekend.

Mrs. Betty Chenoweth, class of 1937, of Jacksonville, was toastmistress for the evening for Sigma Phi Epsilon. The program featured installation of officers for next year and a special literary program.

Those attending were from New York to Colorado, with most of them from the middle states. Those who had not been back for the past five years said they were intensely pleased with "the way Illinois College is looking up."

They were particularly impressed by the improved condition of the physical plant and that both enrollment and financial resources are up.

Dr. Ethel Seybold of the I.C. faculty and president of the 1929 Alumni association presided. Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. Earle B. Miller, who were faculty instructors on the I.C. campus during the student days of the class.

Officers named to plan the program for the 1964 reunion were Philip E. Bradish of Jacksonville, president; Mrs. Maxine Wright Dohnal of Milwaukee, vice president, and Charles Williamson, Jacksonville, secretary-treasurer.

JET PILOT KILLED IN CRASH AT PEORIA

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—An Air National Guard jet pilot was killed Saturday when his F84F Thunderstreak rose only about 250 feet on takeoff and then crashed.

The pilot was Capt. Richard L. Ward, 30, of 2302 N. Easton Pl., Peoria. Authorities said the jet apparently failed to reach the necessary 160 miles an hour takeoff speed. It bounced 400 feet to a fiery stop in a clump of trees at the Greater Peoria Airport.

Ward was decorated three times for bravery during the Korean Conflict and flew 61 missions. His widow and two children survive.

Roger Wagner Chorale Engaged For Concert

Two of five scheduled concerts for 1959-60 have already been contracted, it was announced Saturday by Mrs. Frank Norbury, president of the Jacksonville-MacMurray Music Association. The association recently completed probably its most outstanding year, when it sponsored William Warfield, the Westminster choir, and the St. Louis symphony orchestra in an unusually attractive array of concerts.

The Roger Wagner Chorale and Irmgard Seefried, a singer, are the first two contracts consummated for the new season.

Appearing March 1, 1960 will be the Roger Wagner Chorale, a group that plans to tour South America for 12 weeks this summer under the sponsorship of the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations administered by the American National Theatre and the Academy for the Department of State.

Few American singing groups groups have received such constant and unstinting critical acclaim as the chorale. Press notices from throughout the United States have heaped superlatives upon this group.

New York Stock Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's long-waited "correction" came this week—the sharpest decline for any week since the week ended Dec. 21, 1957.

An estimated $5,800,000,000 was shorn from the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, based on the decline in the Associated Press average.

The market break was robbed of any aspect of panic or a rush to unload, however. Volume shipped to 14,785,757 shares from 14,872,535 the week before. It was the lightest trading since the week ended Aug. 30, 1958 when the total was 13,577,760 shares.

This was the third straight week of declining volume. It reflected extreme caution based mainly on the fear that stock prices had already discounted a good portion of the increased earnings resulting from the vigorous business recovery. The business and economic news remained quite good but there was nothing very new and flashy to freshen interest in Wall Street.

A new element of uncertainty was introduced early in the week, however, and haunted the stock market atmosphere for most of the trading sessions. This was the apparent determination of the national administration to ask Congress to either increase the 4 per cent interest rate ceiling on U.S. government bonds or to abolish it.

U.S. government bonds joined corporate securities on the downside this week.

It was a switch for the government market after two weeks of very slight gains. It was more of the same, however, for corporates —their 10th consecutive week going downhill.

Trading volume came to $27,551,000 par value on the New York stock exchange, compared with $26,373,100 for the previous week and $29,727,500 for the corresponding week a year ago.

Cull to choice shorn slaughter ewes 4.50-6.50.

CHICAGO (AP) — A meager shipper demand and a weak wholesale pork market kept lighter weight butcher hogs under market pressure all week while weights over 230 lbs held steady.

The decline in weights under 230 lbs ran as much as 75 cents a hundredweight although offerings in that range were relatively small.

Cattle receipts for the week increased 5 per cent and although prime grade steers continued scarce the week's high of $32.50 was the lowest top in three months.

High choice and prime steers were as much as $1 lower for the week and other grades were steady to 50 cents lower, making the eighth successive week that the market closed steady to lower than late prices of the previous week.

Buyers said a weakening factor was a decline of as much as $1 on the New York wholesale market.

Sheep receipts down 40 per cent from last week, were the lightest here since June 1956. Offerings on the 12 major markets were 25 per cent less than during the previous week.

The supply here consisted of about 75 per cent old crop shorn lambs of mostly good to choice grade. Only a few lots of spring and wooled kinds were on sale.

Spring lambs were steady, ewes 25 to 50 cents lower and old crop lambs mostly $1 lower.

WEEK'S GRAINS REGISTER FEW MODERATE GAINS

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market bucked a succession of mildly bearish influences this week but managed to work out a few moderate gains on the board of trade.

Oats and old crop corn contracts withstood the lower trend and held fractional gains despite a general decline Friday which knocked new crop soybeans down sharply.

Indecision about market positions in wheat held that grain on a rather narrow course all week but there appeared to be no doubt about the outlook for soybeans, particularly the 1959 crop months.

Broker opinion appeared to be about evenly divided in wheat trade. On one hand, there was a well known belief that grain from the 1959 winter crop now being harvested in the Southwest will move into commercial channels in heavy volume so long as prices hold above those of a year ago.

One commission house reminded that a year ago the grain was sold rather freely at prices well below current levels and below the government price support loan. First arrivals from this year's harvest have brought prices equal to or above the loan.

On the other hand, some commission houses contended that much of the selling last year was more or less forced because of the lack of storage facilities for the record high yield. Since then, storage is reported to have been increased about 15 per cent.

Wheat finished the week ⅞ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, July $1.83¼-83; corn ⅞ higher to ⅝ lower, July $1.25⅝-½; oats ⅛-¾ higher, July old type contract 63¾; rye ⅝ higher to ⅝ lower, July $1.20-20; soybeans ⅜-3⅝ lower, July $2.24⅞-⅜.

Rx For A Vacation Wardrobe

PLANNING IS KEY TO TRAVEL FUN

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — This summer, you'll be able to pack a vacation wardrobe that will permit you to have loads of fun and no work.

Fabrics improve so much with each passing season that you can leave the travel iron at home if you're so inclined. Beyond washing out nylon lingerie and stockings, your time will be spent, as it should be, enjoying yourself.

Best thing to do before you start out, however, is to find out exactly what clothes you will need for your vacation. If you're going to a resort, write and ask if you're expected to dress for dinner. If the seaside is your spot, pack at least three swim-suits for a change-off.

When you're armed with information in advance, you won't end up feeling either overdressed or sloppily dressed.

We show here two designs for vacation wear. Boxed jerkin (left) is matched to tapered pants in brilliant plaid tarpoon cloth. Floral swimsuit (right) in a cotton knit is entirely elasticized for greater comfort and freedom of movement.

Air Force Atlas Explodes Shortly After Launching

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force's giant Atlas rocket exploded shortly after launching Saturday, jolting U.S. hopes for an operational intercontinental-range ballistic missile by this summer.

It was the fifth straight time an Atlas missile failed to travel an intended 5,000-mile path down the Atlantic. Four of the rockets exploded, including the last three.

In all, the Atlas has blown up 10 times in 25 flight tests.

The 82-foot rocket lifted from its launching pad in a pool of fire and smoke Saturday and darted into the sky in what appeared to be a perfect launching.

After 70 seconds, the missile's blunt nose cone arched high in the air and the rocket raced toward the southeast at an altitude of some 80 miles. Its speed was about 15,000 miles an hour.

The Department of Defense issued a quick announcement that the blastoff was an apparent success. Several minutes later it reported the missile "exploded after completion of the initial propulsion stage of the flight." It said the cause of the malfunction was not immediately known.

The explosion occurred about three minutes after launching.

Chiefs Disagree On Master Plan For U.S. Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Joint Chiefs of Staff have disagreed on a master plan for the nations air defense.

But there was "not as great a difference as might be expected," Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said Saturday.

A copy of the master plan proposal apparently was sent to McElroy while he was in Geneva at the foreign ministers' conference. On his return here Saturday, he said he had been studying it during his flight home.

The defense secretary said he expected to discuss the plan further with several Defense Department officials.

A row over antiaircraft missiles is involved in the disagreement. The Army is pushing its Nike-Hercules, the Air Force its Bomarc. McElroy said he expected to reach a decision on the matter within a few days.

BARGE TRAFFIC HITS NEW RECORD LEVEL

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Barge traffic on the Mississippi River in the St. Louis area has hit a new record level.

Tonnage that passed through locks at Granite City and Alton, Ill., last month was close to 2½ million tons.

Col. Charles B. Schweizer, St. Louis district Army engineer, said this would be equivalent to 50,000 railroad cars loaded to 50-ton capacity and stretching from St. Louis to Oklahoma City.

Growth of the river traffic has been on a continued upswing for several years, Colonel Schweizer said, and the increase during May was sharper than usual.

Petroleum products led all commodities making up the cargoes. Grain, coal and chemicals followed, in that order.

State Legislature

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The two houses of the Illinois Legislature begin their duel over taxes in earnest this week, a contest foreshadowed for months by sparring between Democrats and Republicans.

Tax Clash

The first clash will be staged in revenue committees of the Democratic-controlled House and Republican - controlled Senate, where rival tax programs are at stake.

These are the half cent increase in sales tax and 50 per cent hike in liquor taxes proposed by Gov. Stratton, and the ten-fold increase in corporation franchise taxes offered as substitute revenue for school aid by Democrats.

School Aid

The school aid issue is caught in the middle of the dispute, since Stratton's recommendation for a $250 per pupil foundation figure has been upped to $262 in the House.

Administration leaders contend the higher foundation figure will add an extra 60 million to the 327 million dollar state aid program recommended by Stratton for the next two years. The present outlay is 227 million.

Leaders in both houses have hinted they will attempt to bottle up the respective tax bills, waiting to see what action the other house takes. This intention may be put to the test when the House Revenue Committee meets Tuesday to consider the sales tax measures.

FEPC Bills

Meanwhile, with the session entering its last three weeks, other issues approach the showdown stage. Fair Employment Practices legislation, traditionally passed by the House and buried in the Senate, is given its best chance in years due to Stratton's support this session.

Two FEPC bills—one by Democrats and the other by the GOP—will face their sternest trial to date on Wednesday in Senate Industrial Affairs Committee. This committee often has served as FEPCs executioner.

Code Revamp

A critical senate reception is expected, too, for a series of administration bills to revamp the governors executive—or code — departments. The Executive Committee washed its hands of the bills, recommending they be referred to a public hearing scheduled for Tuesday.

Senate Democrats will attempt to scuttle an American Legion bill setting up local supervision of grade and high school textbooks. The measure is on final call in the upper chamber.

Insurance Tax

Back in the arena of the tax battle, two pieces of legislation awaiting final House clearance could cause considerable stir if called this week. One, by Rep. Leo Pfeffer (D-Champaign) imposes a privilege tax of 2 per cent on domestic insurance premiums and 4 per cent on foreign, or out-of-state, Stratton's leaders claim they can block the bill.

The other legislation involves broadening the sales tax base to include persons or firms engaged in the business of repairing or remodelling tangible personal property—such as tailors or building contractors.

Labor Board

Authors of an Illinois Labor Relations Board proposal have asked that their bill be considered as a special order of business in the House, to permit amendment to meet objections of labor and management groups. The proposed board is patterned after the federal agency.

The House economy bloc, forced to retreat last week in attempts to pare down appropriations, will have another opportunity Tuesday when the appropriations committee takes up the budgets of various executive departments, including the secretary of state, the Public Works Department and the lieutenant governor's office.

Urge Overseer For Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee urges naming a special overseer of the foreign aid program to guard against alleged waste, inefficiency and graft.

The Foreign Affairs Committee Friday recommended a $3,642,600,000 foreign aid bill for the year starting July 1. This is $266,800,000 less than President Eisenhower wanted.

The committee's majority report said the program's administrators have not kept close enough tabs on it. The report suggested creation of a new post of inspector general and comptroller of foreign aid at $19,000 a year.

A four-member minority report went further. It said "in one instance at least, graft and corruption" were found in foreign aid operations. No details were given. It called for a sweeping probe of the whole program.

Signers of the minority report were Reps. John L. Pilcher (D-Ga), Marguerite Stitt Church (R-Ill), E. Ross Adair (R-Ind) and Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich).

Stevenson Says American System On Trial For Life

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson said Saturday that "The American system is on trial for its life" and "our society must be adjusted to some tough realities."

He told an audience of businessmen that in a world where "government big enough to meet its responsibilities is a condition of survival," the concept of rugged individualism is an illusion.

The Soviet Union and Red China, he said, are using government as their major weapon in their campaign of economic world conquest. In the United States, a familiar contention of businessmen is that "any government supervision spells socialism and the ruin of free enterprise."

Private enterprise, he said, needs the complement of intelligent government in action in competing with the Communists to solve major problems.

The greatest problem, he said, was the disparity in living standards measured by an average income of $2,000 in North America as against $100 or less for more than one-half the world's population.

Other problems to whose solution Stevenson gave high priority are: How are we going to provide the huge social capital requirements at home for education, housing, health, urban renewal and resources development, and can we control inflation without causing a depression?

Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 Democratic candidate for president, spoke at the National Business Conference sponsored by the Harvard University School of Business.

Rains, Winds Lash Northeastern U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather struck at the northeastern section of the nation Saturday.

Scattered thundershowers, accompanied in some places by strong winds and hail, developed over an area that extended from Pennsylvania into New England.

Gusts of almost 50 miles an hour were reported in Glen Falls, N.Y. Hail pelted Hadley, Mass.

There was a scattering of rain from Washington eastward into Montana and in the eastern Gulf States.

Dry weather dominated most other regions.

Temperatures were in the warm-to-hot range except for a cool belt that reached from northern New England to the upper Great Lakes, and a cool area in the Pacific Northwest.

Youth Kills Self After Accident

STREATOR, Ill. (AP) — A 19-year-old youth shot and killed himself Saturday, authorities said, after a minor traffic accident in which no one was hurt.

Deputy Coroner William J. Godfrey said the dead youth was Richard Decker, who lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Decker on the outskirts of Streator.

Godfrey said the auto Decker was driving was involved earlier Saturday in a minor collision, and that Decker returned to his home and shot himself through the head with a .32 caliber pistol.

The highway accident was the second in which Decker had been involved in the last six months, Godfrey said.

SOVIET PRESSES DEMAND THAT WEST LEAVE W. BERLIN

based upon the view that Gromyko has avoided slamming the door on an eventual approach to the Western position.

Hints of impatience were cropping up among the Western ministers. Outside the conference room, there was some talk of imposing a deadline on the dragging four-week-old talks. But nobody was suggesting an imminent breakdown.

Herter was pictured as keeping in mind instructions from President Eisenhower that every prospect of an honorable settlement must be explored thoroughly and patiently.

West Berlin officials openly expressed concern, however, that protracted negotiations might sap the will of their citizens to withstand the Communist threat.

The East German press hinted that a retaliatory "temporary" blockade might be imposed on West Berlin if the West German Electoral Assembly meets there July 1 to name a new federal president.

Eisenhower and the Western foreign ministers repeatedly have assured the 2,200,000 West Berliners they will never be abandoned. But Western talk in Geneva of even symbolic cuts in the Western garrisons has stirred uneasiness among West Berliners.

Western hopes that Premier Nikita Khrushchev might intervene to break the Geneva deadlock on Berlin were dissipated Saturday when the Soviet Premier made no reference to the conference in his Moscow speech. Returning from his tour of Albania and Hungary, Khrushchev concentrated on warning that rocket bases might be set up in Albania and Bulgaria unless there was an agreement to keep the Balkans free of rockets and nuclear weapons.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

MAMARONECK, N. Y.—(NEA)—Looking for an idea to illustrate the 29th United States Open Championship on the famous West Course of Winged Foot, June 11-13, Murray Olderman, the cartoonist, asked, "How many of these guys win two years in a row?"

A quick check of the record revealed only five in 58 editions through 64 years. The now legendary Scot, Willie Anderson, bounced down in front in 1903-04-05, when mighty few played golf in this country and practically all who did rolled their R's. Johnny McDermott, the first outstanding home-bred, broke through in 1911-12. The immortal Bobby Jones prevailed in 1929-30, Ralph Guldahl in 1937-38 and the incomparable Ben Hogan in 1950-51.

"What does that prove?" asked Olderman.

"It shows," replied Gene Sarazen, "that you have to be an extraordinary golfer to win the Open once. When you win it twice in a row, you're fantastic."

"What, then," said Olderman, "does that make Hogan? Like only Anderson and Jones before him, he's won four Opens."

"Anderson was before my time," replied Sarazen, winner of every major pro title. "But I knew Jones too well. I had to play against him. He was a genius. Hogan was the finest player I ever saw, certainly the greatest precision golfer since I've been around and that means close to 40 years."

* * *

Making Hogan's record all the more remarkable is that he really has bagged five Opens and remember that the winningest Irishman ever to come out of Dublin, Tex., didn't officially cop his first—at Los Angeles Riviera in 1948—until he was 35. He received, however, the same medal for acquiring the wartime substitute, the Hall America Open at Chicago Ridgemoor in 1942. That was when he definitely served notice with 72-62-69-68—271, 17 under par.

The more you dig into Hogan's career the more extraordinary he becomes. It was after Riviera, where he established the all-time Open record—67-72-68-69—276, that he beat his near-fatal automobile accident, missing a year of golf doing it.

Bantam Ben finished first or second six times from 1948 through '56. He was third at Dallas' Northwood in '52, was beaten by the unknown Jack Fleck in a play-off on the Lake Course of the Olympic Club of San Francisco in '55, lost by a stroke at Rochester Oak Hill in '56 and was kept out of the Toledo Inverness show by pleurisy of the chest in '57. At Tulsa's Southern Hills a year ago, he injured his left wrist in practice, yet tied for 10th.

* * *

Winged Moot's west course, with its artfully-sloped, narrow entrances to target greens, is tailor-made for Hogan. But so it is for 15 or more other guys in a field of 150, 131 of whom had to qualify. And how well will Hogan's 46-year-old legs carry him through the two 18-hole rounds on Saturday? On his side is the fact that the layout is level.

Claude Harmon shot a practice round from the back tees in par 70, only to be beaten by Jay Hebert's 69, Hogan's 67 and Mike Souchak's 66. This would seem to indicate that the professionals will tear the West Course apart, which they won't.

This is remindful of Hogan's 64 over Baltusrol's Lower Course in 1954, after which he predicted that the Open record would be broken. It wasn't as the little-known Ed Furgol and his crooked left arm came home hitting every green with 71-70-71-72—284—four above par. Hogan could have used that 64 as he soared to 76 in the third round to finish in a tie for sixth.

It's an altogether different story when the bell rings with the United States Golf Association flag fluttering atop the clubhouse.

CENTENARY METHODIST WINS CHURCH LEAGUE

Two representatives of the Centenary Methodist Church team, Ralph Shelburn and Wayne Stanberry, were on hand to accept the first place trophy Thursday evening in a 'get-together" at the Deaf Chapel.

The Centenary team bested 11 other church teams in the weekly Thursday night Men's Church Bowling League. Don Painter of the Bowling Center made the award on behalf of O. L. Westmorlan of Myers Brothers. Central Christian and First Baptist finished second and third, respectively.

Rev. Delbert Thies, president of the league, gave a brief welcome and a short story on the origin of bowling. He then called on league secretary George McHenry for a brief analysis on the league's activities. The bowlers then enjoyed donuts, coffee and hot chocolate.

Team series: 1st - First Baptist, 2610; 2nd - Grace Methodist, 2528; 3rd - Faith Lutheran, 2477. Individual series: 1st - Noel Leitze, 622, 2nd - Archie Brownell, 619; 3rd - Paul Phelps, 611. Captain Paul Phelps, Nolan Smith and Frank Gore, members of the winning team, were absent when the picture was taken.

Buford Edwards, 432 So. Mauvaisterre, with his prize catch which he landed at 11:30 a.m. Saturday at the east tip of Lake Jacksonville, not far from the Asbury church.

The blue cat measured 33 inches long and weighed 13½ pounds. He was fishing with his wife's uncle, John D. Hayes, who had him on his line first a few minutes previous and the big one broke away. When Edwards landed him, he promptly gave Hayes back his hook, line and sinker.

They were fishing in water only two and a half to three and a half feet deep and were using home made dough-balls for bait.

Detroit Topples Washington, 4-1

DETROIT (AP)—Paul Foytack pitched his second straight complete game after 10 failures to finish, and started the Detroit Tigers' winning rally with an eighth inning single in a 4-1 victory over the Washington Senators Saturday.

The hard-throwing right-hander, working on a no-hitter through the first four innings, scattered six hits for his fourth victory. With two out in the eighth inning and the score tied 1-1, Foytack laced a two-out single to right field and then scored the winning run.

Eddie Yost kept things going with a single off the glove of Reno Bertoia, and Harvey Kuenn drove both of them home with a double to left center. Charlie Maxwell's single scored Kuenn with the final run.

The only damaging blow off Foytack was Faye Throneberry's second home run. It was an upper deck blast in the eighth inning and pulled the Senators up to a 1-1 tie.

The Tigers had scored in the fifth inning.

Hillsdale First In Argonaut Race

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Hillsdale, with a thrilling stretch run, captured the $84,700 Argonaut Handicap Saturday in scoring his sixth stakes victory of the year.

Racing before an estimated 49,300 fans at Hollywood Park, the 4-year-old Hoosier star burst under the wire by a comfortable margin over the pace - setting Fleet Nasrullah.

How Now finished third in the 8th running of the mile attraction as Amerigo, second choice in the betting, ran out of the money and Terrang, the third selection of the crowd, managed to get fourth.

The time was 1:34 3-5.

Hillsdale packed 128 pounds, the heaviest of his career, and spotted the field six or more pounds.

Hillsdale, owned by C. W. Smith of Detroit and ridden by lanky Tommy Barrow, paid $5.30, $3.30 and $2.60.

Mrs. John D. Hertz' Fleet Nasrullah, who almost stole the race, paid $6.50 and $4.90.

The Hillsdale triumph netted the stable $31,650 and boosted the big bay colt's earnings for the year to $301,900, the leading money winner of the nation.

Hillsdale, starting from the rail post position, elected to drop back and let the front runners fight it out.

But Barrow began to move at the far turn and roared down the middle of the stretch, quickly caught Fleet Nasrullah and drew away to win by 2½ lengths.

Ward, 29 Other Drivers Entered At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rodger Ward, the Indianapolis 500-mile winner, and 29 other drivers in the Memorial Day classic are entered in Sunday's 100-mile national championship big car race at State Fair Park.

Ward, who captured the 500-mile classic here two years ago, heads a star-studded field for the event which is expected to attract some 25,000 racing fans. He will drive his "500" winner, owned by Robert C. Wilkie of Milwaukee.

Only three of the Indianapolis racers will be missing. They are the injured Ray Crawford and Mike Magill, and Jim Bryan who went home after finishing last.

Wards' biggest competition is expected to come from Jim Rathman of Miami, Fla.; Johnn Thomson of Boyertown, Pa.; and Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill.

The top 26 qualifiers in the time trials starting at 12:30 p.m. (CDT), will be joined by the first and second place finishers in a 20-mile consolation race in the main event over the mile, paved oval. Some 50 cars are entered, but there may not be enough drivers.

Littler Shares Eastern Lead With Youngster

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dave Ragan, 23-year-old pro seeking his first golf tourney victory staged a sensational rally Saturday to tie front-running Gene Littler for the Eastern Open third round lead at 203 strokes.

Ragan, a Florida golfer playing out of Chattanooga, Tenn., made up six strokes on Littler on the back nine holes to pull even going into Sunday's final 18.

Ragan, former Southern Intercollegiate champion, reeled off five straight birdies in his late drive for a 66, six under par.

Littler, 28, from Singing Hills, Calif., was fading at the same time after leading through the first two rounds. He bogeyed three times in a row and saved himself a tie with a birdie on the last hole to wind up with a one under par 71.

Ed (Porky) Oliver of Denver, who had tagged Littler by a stroke during the first two rounds, fell back into a three-way tie by taking 73 strokes. Don Whitt of Borrego Springs, Calif., shot 69 and Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., 70 to tie Oliver at 206.

Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Texas, was next with a 70 and 207 total.

Ragan and Littler were a total of 13 strokes ahead of par.

San Francisco Routs Cincy, 13-3 Behind Sam Jones

CINCINNATI (AP—San Francisco's Giants pounded 4 of 6 Redleg hurlers for 18 assorted hits Saturday to win 13-3 behind the eight hit hurling of Sam Jones.

They opened the bombardment early when, with two away in the first, Leon Wagner got to starter Bob Purkey for his fifth homer of the year to score behind Willie Kirkland who had doubled and Orlando Cepeda, who singled.

Every man in Bill Rigney's lineup hit safely. Only Hal Jeffcoat, who pitched the third, and Tom Acker, who became the Reds' sixth hurler in the seventh, were able to retire them in order—Acker turning the trick in the ninth.

Only in the third inning was Mayo Smith's crew able to crash the scoring column, their entire output for the day, all unearned.

Royal Orbit Upset At Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — King Ranch's Black Hills, ridden cleverly by Eddie Arcaro, upset Preakness winner Royal Orbit Saturday in the $28,200 Peter Pan Handicap and became a colt to reckon with in the Belmont Stakes next week.

A Belmont Park crowd of 36,486 backed Mrs. Halina Braunstein's Royal Orbit down to 1-2 favoritism but the big California-raced chestnut finished third.

Black Hills, who missed the big races this spring because of colic, went under the wire two lengths ahead of Howard B. Keck's Bagdad, another California - campaigned colt. It was another 2½ lengths back to Royal Orbit.

Wheatley Stable's The Irishman, only other horse in the race for 3-year-olds, was last. All four are eligible for the $129,000-added Belmont, final jewel in the Triple Crown which includes the Kentucky Derby and Preakness.

Black Hills paid $13.10. Because of the small field, there was win betting only.

Drabowsky Goes The Route, Cubs Win, 8-2

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Moe Drabowsky, backed by a six-run Chicago first inning, beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 8-2 Saturday—the first time he's gone the distance in 17 starts.

The victory for the 23-year-old right-hander was his fourth. He scattered seven hits and struck out two. Bennie Daniels, the first of four Pirate hurlers, was the loser.

Solo home runs by Ronnie Blackburn, his first in the majors, in the seventh and one by Roman Mejias in the ninth accounted for the Pirates' runs.

Eleven Cubs paraded to the plate in the first inning onslaught. The big blows were Ernie Banks' triple and a two-run homer by Walt Moryn, his seventh.

A pair of singles by Tony Taylor, a single by Bobby Thomson and a double by Sammy Taylor plus two walks also figured in the Cubs' first inning binge.

The Cubs added single tallies in the third and fourth innings.

Stock Car Driver Decides To Quit Racing

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP—"I never thought I'd just quit race driving like that, but I'm done as of now," Those were the words Saturday of a stock car race driver competing for a $10 purse whose machine sailed into a crowd of 500 spectators at a dirt track Friday night, injuring 23 persons, two of them critically.

The driver, Albert (Bud) Neidel, 30, St. Joseph, a truck driver, suffered a bruised shoulder.

He spoke from the bedside of his 8-year-old son, Ronnie Lee, one of the two critically injured. He and his wife, Betty, had been at the boy's bedside throughout the night.

"Betty wanted me to quit a long time ago," he said. "I like to drive and I'm not afraid, but I'm done."

Neidel and Jerry Hayes, Topeka, Kan., were leading in the fourth lap of the five-lap race. Neidel said his car was sideswiped at the turn, shot over an embankment, jumped a wire fence and landed upside down in the bleachers amid the screaming spectators. He estimated his speed at 60 m.p.h.

Neidel was strapped in his car and was not seriously injured.

Pan-Am Officials Expect 2,389 To Compete

CHICAGO (AP) — Pan-American Games officials said Saturday 2,389 athletes, a record for any Western Hemisphere athletic contest, will compete in the third Games here Aug. 27-Sept. 7.

The United States will send the largest delegation, 391 men and women who will seek honors in all 27 sports on the program.

The Games will present a preview of probable U.S. strength for the 1960 Olympic Games in Rome.

Mexico, with an indicated entry of 200, will send the second largest delegation, Canada is next with 175, Brazil follows with 170 and Argentina with 148.

Of the 28 eligible nations, only Honduras seems likely to pass the invitation to compete.

The Games organizing committee said a mail survey indicates attendance is sure to eclipse the 1,300 figure of the Second Pan-American Games in Mexico City in 1955.

Athletes will be accompanied by 477 team officials.

Seventeen countries have entered the men's track and field and boxing events. Men's swimming and diving, with 16 entries, and shooting and weightlifting, with 15 each, follow in popularity.

The Dodgers end their home season in the Los Angeles Coliseum on Sept. 17 with a night game against Cincinnati. Nine days later the Los Angeles Rams open the National League football season against the New York Giants.

The Wilson, N.C., Pirates lost their Cigar, Outfielder Morris Cigar of San Pedro, Calif., was optioned to Grand Forks, Neb.

CROW INKS CONTRACT

CHICAGO (AP) — John David Crow, star rookie back who missed half of the 1958 season because of injury, signed his second Chicago Cardinal contract Saturday.

Crow, former Texas A & M half-back who won the Heisman Award in 1957, was reported fully recovered from a knee injury which ruined a potential bid for Rookie of the Year laurels in the National Football League.

The Cardinals this week also signed Max Boydston, starting his fifth pro season, and Ted Bates, tackle from Oregon, who was a fifth NFL draft choice.

There will be a new pennant winner in the Carolina League this year. Danville, 1958 champion, dropped out due to the lack of a working agreement with a team in higher classification.

Wall Turns PGA Money Winnings Into A Runaway

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Art Wall Jr., slim shotmaker from Pocona Manor, Pa., has turned the PGA race for money winnings into a runaway.

Hall, an advocate of the so-called baseball grip, has picked up $33,880 in purses so far this year, according to statistics released Saturday by the Professional Golfers Assn.

The total is more than the combined earnings of the second and third place golfers in the race.

Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., won $15,936 during the first five months. He's in the runner-up spot. Next comes Arnold Palmer, pro from Latrobe, Pa., whose earnings total $15,490.

Doug Ford, from Mahopac, N.Y., stands fourth with $13,490, although he hasn't won a major tournament in more than a year.

Ford moved past Wall during May into first place in the top tournament playing point standings. Ford has 972 points compared with 924.50 for Wall, 914.50 for Littler, 895 for Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., and 770 for Palmer.

Wall continues to dominate Vardon trophy and Ryder cup team standing.

Yanks Hand Indians 7th Straight Loss, 2-1

CLEVELAND (AP)—Bob Turley pitched the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians Saturday to give the Indians their seventh straight defeat.

The 28-year-old right-hander gave up 6 scattered hits, struck out 9 batters and walked 4 in his first appearance against Cleveland this season. The victory was his fifth against six defeats.

The only run off Turley was a pinch hit homer by Tito Francona, over the right field fence in the ninth inning.

Southpaw Don Ferrarese suffered his third defeat in seven decisions.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Yankees and their eighth in nine games. Cleveland now has lost nine of its last 10 games.

The Yankees got an unearned run in the fifth inning to break a scoreless deadlock and added another in the eighth on a leadoff single to center field by Hank Bauer, a sacrifice by Elston Howard and a single to center by Mickey Mantle.

Braves Bested By Dodgers, 3-2

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers exploded for two runs on four straight singles in the eighth to beat the Milwaukee Braves 3-2 Saturday and hand right-hander Bob Rush his first loss of the season.

Junior Gilliam, with four singles and a walk, scored two of the Dodgers' three runs and boosted his batting average to .293. He shared the spotlight with veteran relief pitcher Clem Labine who came on in the eighth to hurl two hitless innings and save the game for left-hander Sandy Koufax, now 2-1 for the season.

Koufax yielded 8 hits in 7 innings but both runs off him were unearned. Wally Moon drove in the winning run for the Dodgers.

Henry Aaron provided the only bright spot for the Braves. The National League's batting leader singled to left center in the seventh inning for the 1,000th hit of his major league career. It was his second hit of the game and his 86th of the season.

Ashburn opened the 10th with a double. Two walks and a sacrifice set the stage for Philley's slash of a 3-2 pitch.

Sets New Mark In Javelin

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Billy Alley of the University of Kansas set a new Central Collegiate Conference record Saturday when he hurled the javelin 266 feet, 6 inches, shattering a mark set 21 years ago.

Alley's tremendous effort eclipsed the existing CCC and Marquette University stadium record by nearly 35 feet. The old mark of 231 feet, 7¼ inches was an American record when it was set in 1938 by Larry Bell of Miami (Ohio) University.

Kansas took first place in three of the finals held in the afternoon together with qualifying events.

Paul Williams of the Jayhawks won the broad jump at 23 feet, 2¾ inches, one inch better than Robert Reynolds of Ohio University.

The discus throw was captured by Richard Cochran of Missouri with a heave of 175 feet, 5½ inches.

At the close of the afternoon's competition, meet favorite Kansas already had scored 23 points, to runnerup Notre Dame's eight. Missouri had 5 points, Ohio University 4, Chicago 3, Wisconsin 1 and Northern Illinois 1.

Kansas also swept brilliantly through trials in the dash and hurdle events, qualifying 10 competitors for the evening finals. Notre Dame qualified 3; Drake, Cornell (Iowa), Missouri, Indiana, Marquette and Ohio University, 2 each; and Western Michigan, Wisconsin, University of Wisconsin (Milwaukee) Chicago and Bradley, 1 each.

Bradley's lone qualifier was Paul Moore in the 220-yard low hurdles. Best time in that event was 23.8 seconds by Ron Altenberg of Cornell (Iowa).

In the afternoon finals, John Hall of Northern Illinois placed fifth in the broad jump with 21 feet, 11¾ inches. Best jump was 23 feet, 2¾ inches by Paul Williams of Kansas.

Dow Finsterwald Edges Bolt In Target Match

OMAHA (AP) — Dow Finsterwald, the 1958 PGA champion, shot a 67 to edge Tommy Bolt in the National Golf Day target match Saturday.

He was four under par and one stroke better than Bolt, the National Open champion, whose putting was off most of the afternoon.

Golfers across the country were playing their own courses in an effort to bolster the low score—Finsterwald's 67—in the match between the two pros playing Omaha's Happy Hollow Club course.

Those who did will get medals from the Professional Golfers Assn. of America.

At Baltimore, the oldest touring professional golfer in the Eastern Open, Henry Ransom, was the only one out of 116 to better Finsterwald's score. Ranson shot a 66.

On-And-On Wins Sheridan Stakes

CHICAGO (AP)—Calumet Farm's On-and-On set a six furlong track record Saturday in winning the $28,275 Sheridan Stakes by one length in Washington Park.

The temperamental son of Nasrullah, soundly whipped by jockey Steve Brooks all down the stretch, was timed in 1:08 3-5 to lower the 1:09 record shared by Sun David and Fightin Indian.

Fightin Indian, owned by William G. Gilmore of San Francisco, was the 3-5 favorite in the Sheridan, primarily because of his record-tying run in the six furlong Tri-States Stakes May 18.

In the Sheridan, however, Fightin Indian was off very poorly and had no chance. He finished fifth in a field of 11 3-year-olds.

Little Tytus was second and Coltrane was third.

On-and-On, second choice of the crowd of 18,569, paid $8.20, $4.60 and $4.00. Little Tytus, owned by Priscilla D. Willis of Chicago, returned $6.40 and $5.00. Coltrane, owned by Regnave Stable of Chicago, paid $9.40

Four Assistant Coaches Named To Graham's Staff

CHICAGO (AP) — Four assistant coaches were named to head coach Otto Graham's staff Saturday for the All Star Football Game in Soldier Field Aug. 14.

Aiding Graham with the 1959 college stars, who will face the Baltimore Colts, will be Pete Pihos, former Indiana star who played with the Philadelphia Eagles for nine years; Don Doll, South California graduate who played with the Detroit Lions and now is an assistant at Notre Dame; Lou Saban, Western Illinois University coach who starred at Indiana before playing for the Cleveland Browns, and Dick Stanfel, San Francisco U. graduate who played for Detroit and Washington before joining the Notre Dame staff.

Doll and Pihos were on Graham's staff last year when the college graduates of 1958 defeated the Detroit Lions 35-19 and set an offensive record. The series was started in 1934 by the Chicago Tribune Charities Inc.

Jerry Dahlke and Bill Dufour, who have been up with the Chicago White Sox, are in the Memphis pitching staff in the Southern Assn.

Officials Insist They Hold Reins In Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Nicaragua's troubles Saturday appeared far from settled, although officials from the President on down insist the government is in control throughout the nation.

It has been a week since the first small bands of rebel invaders landed by plane. Unconfirmed reports say there have been more planeloads of rebels flown in than the government has admitted.

A state of siege still is in effect but it may be lifted in the calmer parts of the country next week.

The government admits small groups of rebels are loose in Nicaragua's wild western sector, roaming the swamps and jungles. They are without food and lack arms, the government says, but some sources report the rebels are getting aid from local sympathizers.

In the capital, firecrackers tossed into two movie theaters touched off momentary panic Friday night.

Reports from the nation's second largest city, Leon, site of the national university said students are on strike and have threatened to stone firms that open for business.

Gen. Anastasio Somoza, brother of President Luis Somoza and head of the nation's armed forces, has said air patrols are covering the coastal areas thoroughly and ships and planes have been warned to give full identification at regular intervals to avoid trouble.

50,000 Help Harvard Observe Milk Festival

HARVARD, Ill. (AP) — Thousands of folks went on a milk kick Saturday.

The happy occasion was the 18th annual Milk Day Festival in this community near the Wisconsin border.

It was estimated the population ballooned from the normal 4,000 to 50,000.

Plenty of milk and a good time were had by all.

Aver Street, the main stem, was whitewashed and re-named "The Milky Way."

A parade, two hours long, kept in step to the tunes of 20 bands. Two units in the procession attracted special attention. One was a float of the Assembly of God Church. A large cross was mounted on it and four persons knelt in prayer.

A delegation from Sandwich also held the eyes of the spectators. The bearded men wore stovepipe hats and the women swished along in long skirts of the type in vogue 100 years ago. Their town is observing its centennial.

Fourteen mayors participated in a milking contest. Albert Boncowsky, mayor of Huntley, was the winner.

Each sought to obtain the most milk in one minute. Some observers noted, were better at shaking hands than coaxing milk from a cow.

Connie Pepper, 17, a slender brunette who was graduated by Harvard High School last week, was chosen Milk Queen.

Harvard calls itself the "Milk Center of the World." In 1958 the community processed 100 million quarts of milk for the Chicago metropolitan area.

HEROINE OF SCHOOL FIRE HONORED

CHICAGO (AP) — Sister Mary Helaine, heroic nun of Chicago's tragic Our Lady of the Angels Schools fire, is the Illinois Veterans of Foreign Wars' "citizen of the year."

Ray R. Allen Jr., state VFW commander, announced the award Saturday.

The Roman Catholic nun was burned severely last Dec. 1 when she rescued dozens of children from the blazing parochial school. Ninety-one children and three nuns perished in the holocaust.

Sister Mary Helaine has had more than 50 skin grafting operations. She now is recuperating in Dubuque, Iowa, at the motherhouse maintained by her religious order.

Allen said the VFW is making arranagements for Sister Mary Helaine to visit Springfield June 12 and receive her award at the state VFW convention.

SWEET YEAR FOR CANDY MAKERS

CHICAGO (AP)—Candy manufacturers enjoyed the sweetest year in the industry's history in 1958.

The National Confectioners Assn. reported Saturday the confectionery industry last year scored new records in sales volume and average sales value per pound.

Candy sales in 1958 totaled $1,147,000,000, a five per cent increase over 1957. This reflected sales of 2,830,000,000 pounds, up two per cent from the previous year. Average sales value per pound moved up to 39.5 cents from 38.4 in 1957.

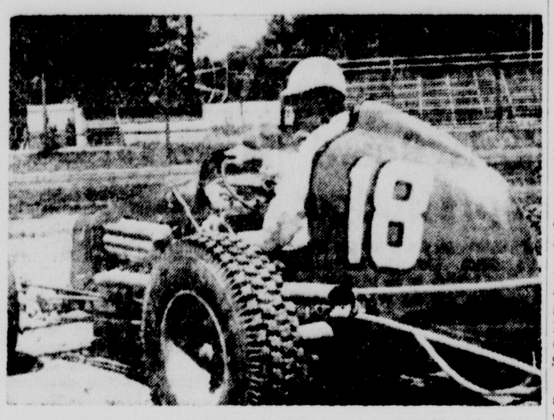

NCAA GOLF TITLE

CHICAGO (AP)—Northern Illinois State's four-man team totaled 328 strokes Saturday to win the NCAA college division Midwest regional golf crown.

Ball State of Muncie, Ind., was runnerup with 332.

Tom Sisolak of Northern defeated Rude Boyle of Ball State in a sudden death playoff for medalist honors. They had tied at the end of 18 holes with 81, eight strokes over the suburban Glenwoodie Country Club course par

These plus several others will be on hand for the seven event program which will start at 1 p.m.

Boston Homers Cool Off Leading Sox, 4-2

CHICAGO (AP) — A brace of two-run homers by Boston's Vic Wertz and Frank Malzone cooled off the first-place Chicago White Sox 4 to 2 Saturday.

The winner was rookie southpaw Ted Wills, although he was chased in the eighth when the White Sox filled the bases with one out, but failed to score.

Wills was replaced by Mike Fornieles who got pinch hitter Harry Simpson, the hero of Friday night's 5-2 victory over Boston, to hit into an inning-ending double play. Friday night, Simpson slammed a three-run pinch double in the eighth.

Wills now has notched two triumphs in his first two major league starts.

Both Red Sox homers—Wertz' in the first and Malzone's in the sixth—came off loser Ray Moore, who suffered his fourth setback against one victory.

Wertz's No. 4 homer of the season after Pete Runnels walked gave Boston a 2-0 lead in the first.

Malzone's homer after Wertz singled in the sixth was the Red Sox third sacker's eighth of the season.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—A petition to organize a fire protection district in Loami Township Friday was heard by acting Sangamon County Judge Stanley Thomas who granted a continuation of the case until 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

Eight residents of the area requested to be not included in the proposed district and asked to be in the present New Berlin fire protection district. They said their telephones are presently connected with the New Berlin exchange.

The delay will give organizers of the proposed new district time to draw up a description of the area it would cover, excluding the eight residents.

Judge Thomas Thursday will act on whether an election shall be called to decide on the question of the new district. If passed, present law provides for a tax of $1.25 per $1,000 of assessed valuation to support such a fire department.

Thomas, who is County Probate Judge, sat in the place of County Judge William D. Conway who is in Chicago on personal business.

FAN BREEZES

BY STAN SPOTTS

Journal-Courier Sports Editor

All my leads on Clay Killebrew have reached a dead-end but my hopes are begining to soar once again. The Reynolds boys, Howard and Merle, who were teammates along with Killebrew at Jacksonville High are seeking new leads on the father of Harmon Killebrew, who presently leads the American League in home runs and runs batted in. We think it's going to be an interesting story once we get the necessary data.

— o —

Phil Dooling, who formerly worked for the Journal-Courier and now resides in Beardstown, started the guessing game when he sent a letter and clipping to John Larson. The article on Harmon Killebrew was by Leo Fischer of the Chicago American. A portion of the long writeup stated: His dad, whose name was Clay, came from Illinois and played football for James Millikin University in Decatur. Dad never went much for baseball, however, because he had lost one eye as a youth and as he said, he couldn't see the ball coming.

— o —

The last line was the punch line as far as the JHS grads were concerned as Clay, who was an outstanding athlete in 1913 and 1914 as a Crimson, lost an eye in his freshman year, it was believed. The big bruising fullback was a powerful runner and played under coach Harry Buland. He ran with his legs high and he was always good for 5-10 yards a carry. I found in the 1915 year book at JHS, which was the football season of 1914, that 'Killy' was the football captain who guided his teammates to an undefeated season. The recap also listed some of his outstanding long TD runs of 50-85 yards. Here is how the team fared that season in going unbeaten and untied: JHS 20 - Hannibal 0; JHS 28 - Hannibal 0; JHS 21 - Alton 0; JHS 7 - Peoria 6; JHS 73 - Beardstown 14; JHS 23 - Quincy 0; JHS 91 - East St. Louis 0; JHS 41 - White Hall 7. Some of the players listed at that time were Haigh, Maddox, E. Pyatt, Smith and Boxell.

Clay was also vice-president of his junior class. He played on the 1914-15 basketball team which won one and lost seven. Wallace Hembrough was captain of the track team that spring and Clay participated in the shot put, low hurdles and the relay team. He was a big man. This characteristic is born out in Harmon's dimensions. The 22-year-old who is just five years out of high school, stands 6-2 and weighs 195 pounds. The boy makes his home in Payette, Idaho. He has two older brothers, who are in the newspaper trade. He is married and has two sons.

We know Clay Killebrew was at Jacksonville High his sophomore and junior years. We don't know where he finished his prep education or what happened to him after he left Millkin University. I've heard he was born around Nebo, Ill. There are a lot of details to fill in but I'm sure you'll agree this is the same person who has a boy swatting the long ball for the Senators. Phil Dooling closed by saying, "This really isn't important, but just another pleasing memory of the good old days." I might add it could be a pleasing story once we get all the facts down in black and white, Phil.

Stan Caine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Caine of Illinois College, has been named tennis captain next season at McAllister College in St. Paul, Minn. Stan played number two singles and number one doubles. He also was on the Dean's honor list. Stanley was the finest little competitor I ever watched in high school football. He was a rugged individual despite his 138 pounds. He especially shone on defense.

FIND OMISSIONS IN MEMORIAL DAY FLAG PLACING

WHITE HALL — Richard Sullivan of American Legion Post who was in charge of placing American flags on the graves of servicemen in the local cemetery on Memorial Day has announced that some graves were missed. Anyone knowing of such an ommission is asked to contact him, so that proper recognition can be given next Memorial Day. Bob Hubbard took care of placing flags in the Walkerville cemetery, Dick Talkington in the Jones cemetery, and other members of the post in nearby cemeteries.

Ken Schinkel of Springfield, Mass., led the American Hockey League's individual scorers last season with 43 goals.

George Pickett, North Carolina State freshman basketball coach, still holds the school's high jump record set in 1950. He jumped 6-feet-4 1/4 inches against Davidson.

MORGAN COUNTY JAIL EMPTY FOR SEVERAL DAYS

Reservations were not needed yesterday at the Morgan county jail. The cells and "bullpen" were vacant—one of the rare occasions when that situation exists.

The emptiness of the county bastile dates back to Thursday, June 4, when the last prisoner was discharged after serving his sentence.

Cells that have held forgers, burglars, drunken drivers—even murderers — were forebodingly quiet.

Odds were even that sometime before midnight or early morning some individual would overstep the law and find himself inside looking out.

G. M. & O. Freight Derailment Ties Up Mail Service

A severe curtailment of mail service in Jacksonville and numerous other downstate cities developed Saturday as the result of a freight train derailment at Normal, Ill., at 5 p.m. Friday.

There were no injuries as the cars left the rails.

Star route trucks serving the Jacksonville post office returned empty Saturday morning after making the trip to Springfield.

Postmaster Philip Day said there was no mail from the north Saturday morning, due to the wreck. Later in the day the trucks began to pick up mail which had been rerouted.

By Nancy Hainsfurther
(Winchester Correspondent)
(Telephone Pioneer 2-5520)

WINCHESTER — The board of directors of the Scott County Tuberculosis Association met at a luncheon meeting Thursday, June 4, at Hotel Winchester. The session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Merle Helliwell at which time the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as was the treasurer's report.

The proposed budget was discussed and approved as follows: Health Education, $275; Case Finding, $500; Research, $200; Christmas Seal Supplies, $275; Secretary salary, $250; Miscellaneous Office expenses, $25; Prizes for school contests, $125; Total, $1,650.

It was reported that a total of $1,093.70 is on hand.

Appointment was made of the Seal Sale publicity committee composed of Mrs. Charles Travis, Mrs. Norris Whorton and Mrs. J. Leo Campbell. AM board members were asked to contribute any new addresses for the mailing list and to help in any way to increase the amount earned by the Seal Sale. All the work is financed in this way, and unless the amount can be increased, some of the planned work will be curtailed.

Rehabilitation Committee

A rehabilitation committee was appointed to learn more about ways and means of helping tuberculosis patients re-establish themselves following hospitalization. Frequently a complete change of living and occupation is necessary. The committee is composed of Mrs. Wendall Brackett, Mrs. Jesse Fuller and Mrs. Fred Robinson. This is a new activity for the organization and much must be learned as time passes. The need for rehabilitation has become more urgent with the increase of persons who can expect to return to some kind of work, while being treated with new drugs.

The Health Education Committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. J. Edward Spencer, Mrs. James Gordon, Mrs. Everett Hester, Mrs. James Baird and Mrs. I. D. Mueller.

The executive committee for this year is Mrs. Helliwell, Mrs. Rowe Leib, Mrs. Maurice Funk, Mrs. Roy Kaltschnee, Jr. and Mrs. William Moss.

Mrs. Dean Merriman, R.N. has agreed to make her services available for visiting parents of school children who had positive Tuberculin tests. All persons having a positive reaction should have a chest x-ray, and the board will make every effort to see that parents understand the service is available.

Seal Sale Conference

The regional's seal sale conference is being held June 24, at Allerton Park. Any interested board member is invited and it is hoped to have a car load spend the day there. As in the past, all who go will pay their own expenses, usually $1.50 for lunch, and whoever takes a car has donated the cost of the trip. These conferences are always very interesting with much explanation of national and state fund-raising ideas according to the local group. All associations are asked to bring any outstanding displays of methods used in individual counties so the day is an instructive as well as entertaining one.

Thursday's meeting was the last of the year until September the only summer activity being the work at the State Fair. Volunteers are wanted each year to staff the mobile x-ray units for one-half day. Any board member who is able to help please call Mrs. Funk after 5 p.m.

Improvements

When traveling west on Cherry Street and crossing the railroad tracks one might think a tornado struck the grain elevator there, but no, progress has taken over. The Winchester Grain, soon to be known as the Thady Grain and Feed Company, is remodeling with the installation of a new Howe 50 foot truck scale complete with dial and automatic ticket printer and a shiny new building which is to house the office area, warehouse and feed mill.

The feed mill is to contain a large capacity hammer mill, two 2 ton feed mixers and bulk feed facilities. When completed, around August 1, the mill will offer complete feed service in conjunction with a corn bank program.

Two new legs are being installed in the South Elevator to provide much greater grain handling and corn shelling capacity.

Wilmer and Fred Thady, father and son owners, assure the completeness of the scales, office and elevator improvements by the opening of wheat harvest season. But until the final nail is driven business is being carried on as usual in the present facilities.

The boys worked Friday afternoon digging footings and leveling concrete. The Franklin club will donate the wash rack to the fair association for use during the annual fair.

We're not sure whether preparations are underway for a wax job or not but it's a good bet most of the animals that use this wash rack will receive only the best of care.

Law Requires Cutting Of Noxious Weeds

URBANA — State laws set up penalties for landowners, tenants, railroads, highway authorities and others who do not cut noxious weeds growing on their property, according to N. G. P. Krausz, University of Illinois professor of agricultural law.

Canada thistle, perennial sow thistle, European bindweed, leafy spurge, Russian knapweed, hoary cress, and ragweed within cities and villages are listed as noxious weeds under the law.

Owners of land may be fined up to $300 for not destroying noxious weeds before they reach a seed-bearing stage.

The occupier of land, including tenants, may be fined up to $100 for allowing noxious weeds to go to seed.

Anyone who brings in and spreads noxious weeds may be fined up to $100.

Railroads may be fined up to $200 for not destroying noxious weeds on their rights of way.

Highway commissioners are subject to a penalty of up to $50 if they fail to keep weeds mowed prior to seeding, or by September 1 at the latest.

The Illinois seed law establishes another class of weeds as "secondary noxious weeds." These weeds include curled dock, wild garlic, dodder, bull nettle, buckhorn, quackgrass, wild mustard, Johnson grass, ox-eye daisy and wild carrot.

The seed law prohibits sale of any agricultural seed that contains any noxious weeds. It also prohibits sale of agricultural seed that contains more than the listed tolerances of secondary noxious weeds. These tolerances can be obtained from the Illinois State Department of Agriculture at Springfield.

Non-noxious weeds are not subject to any special laws. However, there may be a liability to a neighbor if large numbers of weeds are left to seed and spread onto a neighbor's farm.

Although most farmers are conscientious about destroying noxious weeds, state legislators felt that the problem was serious enough to provide for weed commissioners to look for and eradicate noxious weeds.

The weed commissioner who finds noxious weeds growing in his township notifies the owner or occupier in writing and suggests methods of eradication. If after such notice the weeds are not eradicated, the commissioner is legally authorized to enter the area and destroy the weeds. Costs are paid by the landowner.

However, the commissioner is not allowed to spend more than $25 on any single tract of land without approval of the township supervisor. The weed commissioner also can start proceedings to have a fine levied against the landowner who fails to cut weeds.

The weed commissioner is appointed for a two-year term by the board of town auditors or by county commissioners in counties that are not organized on a township basis. His maximum pay is $6 a day for the days he actually spends in performing the duties of his office.

JERSEY FARMS DECLARE WAR ON MR. GROUNDHOG

JERSEYVILLE — Jersey county farmers report that the groundhog population in the locality continues to increase in spite of the effort to limit it by a bounty on each scalp taken and filed with the county clerk.

The woodchuck families are appearing in farming communities this spring never before inhabited by the species in recent years. Alfalfa and clover fields are reported as the favorite sites for new ground hog burrows, and early planted gardens in many localities have suffered heavy damage from the raids of the animals.

Trapping and chemical warfare is being utilized in the general effort to exterminate the animals, in numerous farming communities.

Illinois Farmers Outlook Letter

IS THE BUILD-UP OF CORN SURPLUS NEAR AN END?

There is a strong possibility that during the past two years corn production and use have been brought into balance and that the long accumulation of stocks by the government under price support programs is at an end. Whether or not this is true depends on how large corn yields of the future will be.

In 1957 the corn crop was the third largest on record. Increase in carryover totaled only 48 million bushels. The 1958 corn crop was 378 million bushels larger than the 1957 crop and by far the largest in history. Production of other feed grains (oats, barley and grain sorghums) was also substantially larger than in the preceding year and of record size.

Disappearance from the 1958 crop cannot be accurately forecast, but on the basis of the first six months it now looks as if the 3.8 billion-bushel corn crop will be used up and the increase in total feed-grain carryover will be 2.5 to 5.0 million tons. Production and use are nearly in balance in spite of the huge increase in production.

The hog-corn ratio is favorable and therefore conducive to further increase in hog numbers. The price of corn is above last year's loan. The utilization base is not overexpanded in terms of current support rates for corn.

The United States is now in a position to use 145 to 150 million tons of feed grains and a 3.7 billion-bushel corn crop. Will that much be produced at a $1.12 support for corn?

For the last 11 years national average corn yields per acre have been as follows:

1948	42.5	1954	38.8
1949	37.8	1955	40.6
1950	37.6	1956	45.7
1951	36.2	1957	47.1
1952	40.7	1958	51.7
1953	39.9

How much of the increase during the past three years has been the result of improved technology, and how much has been the result of unusually favorable weather? One extreme says that all but last year was the result of technological improvement and that 47.5 bushels is now a normal yield. The other says that the last three years are the result of favorable weather, that there is no real increasing trend in corn yields and that the 1948-55 average of 39.3 bushels is what we should expect.

On the basis of March 1 planting intentions, a yield of 47.5 bushels will produce 4.0 billion bushels of corn, whereas a yield of 39.3 bushels will produce 3.3 billion. Without any very good basis, I think a normal yield is 43 bushels per acre. This would produce 3.6 billion bushels, substantially less than the amount being used this year.

Commission Holds Farm-Aid Workers Not Federal Help

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The men and women who administer federal farm-aid programs at the county level want the benefits Uncle Sam accords his civil service employes.

There is at least 17,000 of these employes working in offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in more than 3,000 counties. They are hired, and can be fired at any time, by county committees of farmers elected each year to supervise the farm programs.

The Civil Service Commission holds that these workers are not federal employes and hence are not entitled to tenure, retirement, insurance pay scale and other benefits extended to regular federal workers.

These employes help carry out federal price support, crop control, agricultural conservation payment, soil bank land retirement and other programs of the agriculture department.

Proposals to give them benefits now extended to federal employes have been advanced in congress but opposed by the administration.

In holding that these workers are not federal employes, the commission said they are neither appointed nor directed by federal officials, and do not perform federal functions.

First Hog Barn At Morgan Fairgrounds

This is the start of a long-range project at the Morgan County fairgrounds which eventually will include a four-building quadrangle with a modern show ring in the center.

This group of industrious workmen are in the process of getting the corner pole on the "straight and level" during construction. Included in the group: Gerald Heaton, Bob Middleton, Jr., James Fox, C. W. Martin and Bob Houston, vice-president of the fair association and chairman of the construction project. Volunteers are helping with construction.

Plans are in the mill for building one barn each year of pole-type construction. Funds for the project were realized from additional sale of capital stock and net rentals from the Stock Car races.

The Morgan County Fair will be held August 5-9 this year and already 4-H'rs are busy with advance preparations in an effort to cop as many blue ribbons as possible. Competition is expected to be keen in all departments.

Insects, Disease Play Havoc With Oat Crop

The oat Crop in the Jacksonville area has been practically ruined by a double barrelled attack of both insects and diseases, Farm Adviser George Trull reported this week.

As a result, many fields will hardly be worth combining and all fields will have a greatly reduced yield.

"Green Bug"

About two or three weeks ago the "green bug," which is a kind of aphid, moved in and began sucking the juice from the oat plants. This insect is especially serious since it injects a toxic substance into the plant as it feeds. This isn't all the damage that can be attributed to this insect because it also spreads "yellow dwarf" disease, which is a virus and causes the leaves to turn yellow and red and to dry up.

Most of the green bugs have now disappeared from the fields, but the damage has been done, and the "yellow dwarf" disease is now widespread in the fields.

"Yellow Dwarf"

Since "yellow dwarf" is a virus disease, there is nothing that can be done once the aphid injects the plant with the disease. There are no adapted varieties of oats that are resistant.

A reduction in the number of spikelets is a serious effect of the disease. This reduction may vary from failure of only a few spikelets to kernels and a lower test weight also occur.

Neither the green bugs nor the yellow dwarf disease will affect the clover or alfalfa seeded in the field.

In view of the insect and disease situation it is fortunate that oats have become a relatively unimportant crop in Morgan County. In 1958 there were 16,500 acres planted to oats. This represents about one acre in each 14 crop acres.

Cicadas Give You Trouble? Now Is The Time To Act!

Cicadas, or seventeen-year locusts as they are called, really are not seventeen-year locusts at all—they're the thirteen-year variety according to a bulletin from the University of Illinois.

This particular brood was very abundant in 1946 all over the state, but especially in the southern half and Jacksonville in particular. The Nymphs have remained in the ground since 1946, and a few weeks ago began emerging as adults.

They damage the tender tips of woody shrubs and trees as they lay eggs by inserting them in the tissue. The damaged twigs die and drop to the ground where the young nymphs that hatch crawl into the soil for another thirteen years—beware of 1972.

Protect Small Trees

Protect tender small trees and shrubs by enclosing them in cheesecloth or mosquito netting. The real damage to trees and shrubs will be during the next two weeks.

The only effective spray known, according to the bulletin, is 2 pounds of 50 percent Sevin wettable powder per 100 gallons of water. It is highly doubtful that the chemical can be purchased in the Jacksonville area however. This chemical may be available at orchard supply houses. The application must be repeated at six-day intervals.

Best bet this late in the season is to enclose the small trees and shrubs and use earplugs during afternoon naps. Unless the cicadas leave soon it may be necessary to start treatment for a nervous breakdown on the family cat.

Plan Wheat Day At Oakes Farm; 1 P.M. Tuesday

The twenty-ninth annual Wheat Day to be held at Bluffs will be Tuesday, June 9 starting at 1 p.m. (DST), according to word received from Extension Specialist Johnny Pendleton. Mr. Pendleton heads a sizable group expected from the University of Illinois Agronomy Department.

U. Of I. Specialists

The specialists who are expected to attend from the university are professors William Beaver, Pendleton, Earl Gantz, Roland Weibel, O. T. Bonnett, H. B. Petty, C. M. Brown, M. B. Russell, and J. C. Hackleman with the Illinois Crop Improvement Association and many other visitors.

North Of Bluffs

The wheat test plots are located on the Royal Oakes farm along the west side of route 100, ½ mile north of Bluffs. Nineteen varieties may be viewed at the plots. The varieties are Bison, Concho, Crockett, Dual, Illinois 53-818, Indiana C. I. 13278, Knox, La Porte, Pawnee, Ponca, Racine, Rosetta, Royal, Saline, Taylor 16, Todd, Triumph, Vermillion and Wichita.

Since 1907

Mr. Oakes has been testing wheat varieties since 1907, according to Dale Hewitt, Scott County farm adviser who is presently working with Royal and his two sons, Charles and Harold, so that all arrangements will be complete by the ninth. Mr. Oakes' test plots have been official with the University of Illinois Agronomy Department since 1930.

Starts With Tour

A typical "wheat day" starts with a tour of plots and Mr. Oakes discussing the different characteristics of the 19 varieties. The university specialists take 15 to 20 minutes each on the subject of their special training. Copies of last year's results, showing yields, test weights, etc., will be available.

In event of rain the meeting will be held at the Bluffs High school nearby.

Every year clothes moths and carpet beetles cause damage ranging from $200 million to $500 million in the United States.

Rotational grazing will enable more cows to graze on each acre of pasture.

JUNIOR LEADERS HELP WITH PAPERWORK

Left to right, Carol Anderson, Phyllis Wilder, Sherrie Houston and Sandra Aufdenkamp, all junior leaders in the 4-H program in the Jacksonville-Morgan County area are busy with paperwork involving many of the 4-H members throughout the county.

The girls are helping in the office of the Home Bureau and will bring membership cards and activities for each club up to date.

Plowland & Meadow

By the Journal Courier Farm Editor

This Week.. at Dixon Springs

(A round-up of the week's work, activities and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by H. A. Cate).

Weather, wet or dry, and we've had both this spring at Dixon Springs, is always good for an opening to conversation, correspondence or a column. Well, anyway, nearly five inches of rain fall in May after a dry April has been slowing field work, but pastures have been booming.

New Bulletin On Irrigation

Fresh from the printers is Bulletin 640, "Experimental Irrigation of Ladino Clover-Grass Pasture." It is a 30-page discourse on the methods and results of seven years of pasture irrigation conducted at Dixon Springs. From reading this publication we know that pastures need a whale of a lot of water to keep booming. Even this year' snearly five inches of rain during May falls short of the water put on by irrigation or by rain during June, July and August for each of the seven years of the irrigation experiment. From both rainfall and irrigation, the pastures were drenched with over seven inches in each of the three months. During the seven years an average of nearly 14 inches of irrigation water was applied and over 20 inches fell as rain during these three months.

What Irrigation Accomplished

1. Produced more dry-matter forage - 1¼ tons more an acre.

2. Provided higher animal carrying power - increased grazing 71 percent, or 11 more animal-unit days.

3. Maintained ladino clover in the stand.

4. Increased animal gains each year by an average of 115 pounds an acre

If you want more information, write for Bulletin 640. You'll be able to recognize it in the bulletin racks by the cover picture of Lee Gard, Station soil and water researcher, kneeling deep in clover with shower from the irrigation sprinklers falling on his back.

Extraordinary!

Uncommonly high gains were made by both yearling and two-year-old Station cattle on self-fed, complete pelleted rations last winter. A lot of yearling cattle on a ration of 40 percent hay and 60 percent concentrate gained 3 1/3 pounds a head daily during a 135-day feed. Not to be outdone, a lot of two-year-old cattle gained at the same rate on the same ration.

Balance of Roughage to Concentrate

Whether a ration of 40 percent roughage is most desirable is questionable. But this we did learn last winter: Both yearlings and two-year-olds gained slightly less when the roughage part of the pellets was cut to 20 percent and the concentrate was increased to 80 percent. Station calves still on feed are showing the same trend. The 40 percent roughage pellet is producing more gain than the 20 percent roughage pellet.

Wool Pool

Today (May 26), wool is arriving at the Station in mountainous quantities for the wool pool. We should have a report on the pool next week.

4-H'ers Plan Busy Schedule This Week

4-H Ag and Home Ec members will be busy this week in preparation for future contests and fairs. A joint school between the Ag and Home Ec extension departments will be held June 8 at the Farm Bureau hall, 8 p.m., DST.

All members interested in the 4-H speech contest scheduled July 1 should attend. Four speeches will be presented Monday night; two planned to show the correct way and two to show the incorrect way. This should prove beneficial to all prospective speech contestants since many times it is easier to learn from the faults of others than to make all the mistakes yourself. Everyone should be able to pick up a few pointers on how to give a better demonstration for club and achievement night. Last year the two entries in the State contest won "A" ratings.

Livestock Judging

The Morgan County livestock judging school and contest will be held Thursday, June 11, at the Warren Lakamp farm at 9 a.m. DST. Each member should bring a sack lunch and the 4-H Federation will have a cold drink stand. There will be two rings of sheep, swine, beef and three rings of dairy cattle.

This should be very valuable experience for the younger members; the two six high scoring 4-H members in the Livestock and Dairy contest will represent Morgan County at the State Judging Contest.

Contest committee members are: Charles Williamson, chairman; Warren Lakamp, Rollin Martin, Willard Jones, Robert Middleton, Jr., John Gordon, George Trull and Bob Hayward, Jr.

The best way to reach the Lakamp farm is to take the road north of the Morgan County fairgrounds and go west for 3½ miles to the Liberty Church; turn left for ½ mile then turn right 1½ miles to the Lakamp farm which is on the left side of the road. Parents are invited and encouraged to attend the school and contest.

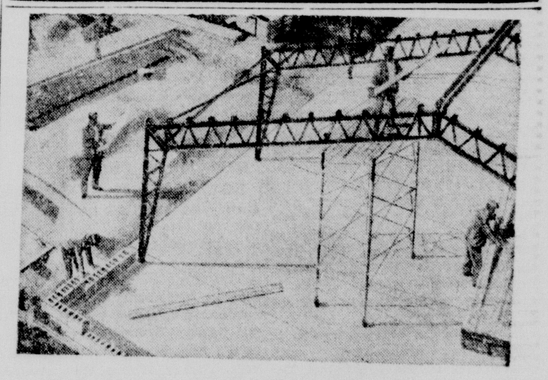

Photography School

Morgan and Scott 4-H members are invited to attend a special photography school Wednesday, June 10, at the Farm Bureau Hall, from 3 to 5 p.m.

John Linebaugh, co-owner of the Camera Shop, will be the featured speaker. He will cover many points of information of special value to 4-H members during the first hour, then has invited the group to make a conducted tour of the Mid-States Photo Lab during the following hour.

Eldred Man To Receive American Farmer Degree

CARROLLTON— Tom Handlin of Eldred, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Handlin, a former member of the FFA Club of the Carrollton Community Unit High school, has been recommended by the State FFA committee to receive the American Farmer Degree which will be presented in October at the National FFA Convention to be held in Kansas City. Handlin will be honored June 18 at the State FFA convention to be held in Springfield.

Handlin is the fifth man in five years to receive the American Farmer award through the local schools and it is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a young farmer. It is an exceptional honor to the vocational agriculture department of the local high school to have five students in as many years attain such a high goal.

Atomic Energy Commission has made two grants totaling $19,000 to the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine to purchase nuclear technology equipment. This grant will make possible the teaching of radiophysiology.

Politics U.S.A., 1959—I

The Republicans who, at the President's behest, have set about trying to shape a clearly drawn philosophy and program for their party are finding it a big order.

Had the Democrats tackled this task during the long decades of GOP ascendancy in Washington, they'd have had their troubles, too.

Why is it so tough?

Some historians say it's because generally the national mood and temper does not veer sharply from one side to the other, but tends steadily to follow one broad channel over a considerable period.

Within the bounds of that channel lie the people's complex array of needs and interests, many of them often tied together in a many-sided response to the particular economic and political climate of the age.

The successful political party, these historians say, is the one which manages to identify itself most consistently with programs aimed at those needs and interests.

Sometimes this may happen originally by accident. But the alert party sees its chance, capitalizes, and holds the ascendancy.

Thus in the long span from 1860 to 1932, the Republicans ruled almost continuously. Only the two terms each gained by Grover Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson broke their White House control.

Turnabout came in 1932. For the next 20 years the Democrats were on top. Mr. Eisenhower's two victories, like Cleveland's and Wilson's, broke pattern. Yet many students of politics think Democratic congressional triumphs three out of four times during Ike's tenure show the basic tide still runs their way.

The Republicans in their "high period" seemed to reflect the national wish in their powerful encouragement to individual freedom and enterprise, in their spur to the growth of the great mass production industries which gave America the world's highest living standards.

Yet that very growth produced a whole new host of problems having to do with the protection and security of the millions who toiled in our industrial civilization. Thrust into power by the Great Depression, the Democrats developed popular answers to these new needs. It became their turn to ride the crest.

If the historians' approach has any value, they could conceivably ride this wave until, at some new major turning point, they lose their touch and the Republicans once again find the key to the national mood and temper.

NEXT: Where does this leave the opposition party?

Freedom's Voice

We in America who enjoy freedom of the press without interruption perhaps are a little too casual in our appreciation of it. Those who do not have it, or those who have lost it and regained it, may understand most fully its deep meaning in a democracy.

It is thus fitting that in celebration of this year's Freedom of the Press day we should hear from Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, publisher of Argentina's La Prensa, one of the world's most famous free-speaking newspapers.

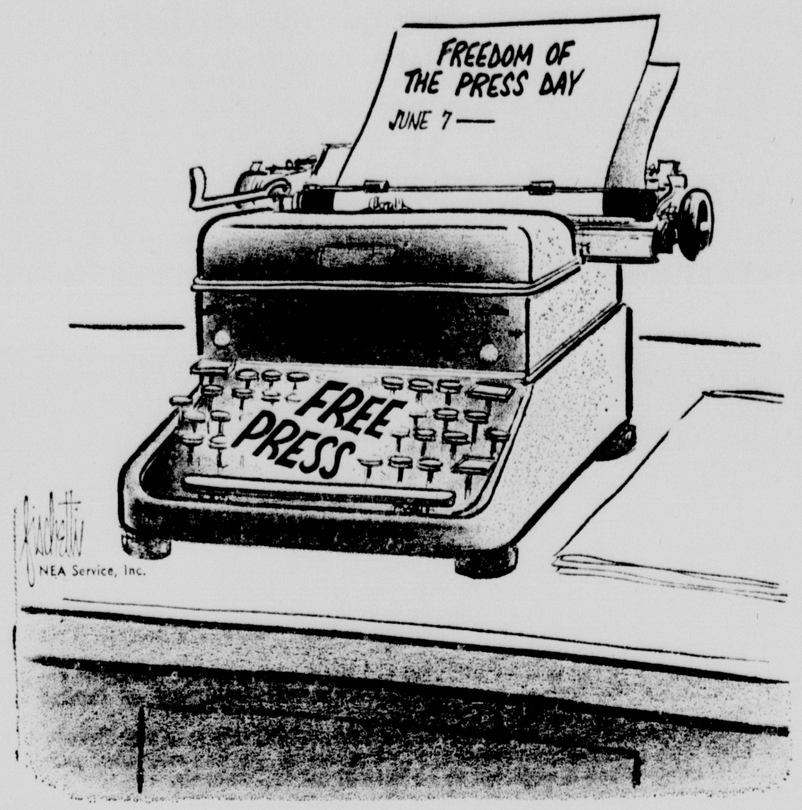

Dr. Gainza Paz, who also is president of the Inter American Press Assn., himself suffered the dictator's cruel blows again press freedom. During the regime of the unlamented Juan Peron, La Prensa was expropriated by the government, its free spirit gutted, and its publisher forced into lengthy exile.

He warns today that simply because some dictators have fallen and freedom has regained old bridgeheads, we dare not relax our vigilance.

"Our peoples should not be fooled by those who use the vocabulary of democracy and freedom to disguise actions that lead to the curtailment of our liberties."

The Keys of the Kingdom

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev are talking to each other with their elbows.

Now, after months of nudging and little progress, each man can say: Get your elbow out of my eye.

The Soviet premier started it with his threat last November that the West pull its troops out of Berlin—or else.

Why had he created this crisis? For various reasons, maybe.

The West thought this was one of them: To jimmy his way into a summit meeting with Eisenhower, which he had long wanted. Khrushchev made it plain that was in his mind.

He said the only way to settle the Berlin and other issues was at a meeting of the top men.

At first the West suggested — without strings—that the Western and Soviet foreign ministers meet to discuss Berlin and other German problems.

Eisenhower followed this up fast with a deliberate nudge to Khrushchev. He said there would be no use in a summit meeting unless:

1. There was some previous negotiation (meaning a foreign ministers meeting).

2. And—this has a big string attached—unless the foreign ministers showed progress.

For them to show progress — from the Western viewpoint — meant the Soviets would have to make concessions.

This could be interpreted as the stick and carrot technique used on a donkey. Khrushchev, who doesn't consider his ears long at all nevertheless agreed to a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva.

That meeting, which started almost a month ago, has shown no results.

But Eisenhower, having won his point on the foreign ministers conference, continued to insist there could be no summit meeting unless the ministers made progress (which would require Soviet concessions).

Maybe Khrushchev got fed up on the repitition. Or maybe he doesn't like carrots. At any rate, he nudged Eisenhower back by announcing there was no reason why the Soviet Union should make any concessions.

He said maybe this was not the right time for a summit meeting after all, and he could wait for the right time.

Still, Eisenhower went back to his old theme at his news conference this week, saying: There has not been any "detectable progress" that would "justify the holding of a summit meeting."

But Eisenhower does not have unanimous American support for his position.

Sen. J. William Fulbright this week questioned Eisenhower's wisdom in using progress at Geneva as a reason for meeting Khrushchev or the lack of it as a reason for not meeting him.

"If a summit conference doesn't hold some prospect of benefit to the Western world, I wouldn't go. I think it is possible and logical to argue that the complete lack of accomplishment at the foreign ministers level might justify a summit meeting."

Flexible Retirement Policy May Give Worker a Break

BY MARIE DAERR

"Don't let a short-sighted retirement policy waste the manpower abilities still available in our older people," urges Dwight S. Sargent, personnel director for Consolidated Edison Co. of New York. This partially explains the reason for that company's change in retirement policy.

Before 1953, Consolidated retired men at 65 and women at 60. For awhile, the company tried a flexible retirement policy. Today, men may retire at 65 or stay on the job until 68. Women have voluntary retirement at 60 and must retire at 65.

Sargent is convinced that many companies would change their retirement policies if they knew more about the actual desires of their employes approaching 65.

He also thinks that, in talking about retirement, two groups should be considered: first, the high executive group, and, second, the rank and file group.

"It is possible that age 65 could be completely appropriate for a vice president and unnecessarily expensive and undesirable for a mechanic or clerk," he said.

Sargent explained that one way of meeting the retirement age problem, the "flexible" policy, involves selecting each year those who are allowed to continue work.

"This is the ideal and probably unattainable policy from the point of view of using the maximum amount of the productive skill that exists," he said. "This selection isn't the easiest or most pleasant job.

"Some of the people to whom I have talked in companies where the standard retirement age is 65 objected seriously to the flexible idea because it forced management to make decisions as to who should be kept and who should not be kept.

"Yet these individuals didn't mind at all raising the retirement age to 67 or 68, in order to keep more skilled workers.

"This second means of coping with the retirement age problem would accomplish much of what could be achieved by the other. The higher the age at which the employees must retire, the less productive ability will be discarded and lost.

"This plan, however, has the drawback of retaining employes who are only 'getting by,' as well as the good workers."

A statement from the American Life Convention and the Life Insurance Assn. of America supports Sargent's views.

"The nation's production is increased and the burden of Social Security reduced by the extent to which the abilities and skills of the aging and handicapped are used," it reads. "If companies which now retire men at age 65 permitted only 30 per cent of their men to work, for example, to 68, they would accomplish to a considerable degree this objective."

Labor Leaders, Too, Have a Sense of Humor— Australia's Menzies Is Given a Dry Reception

BY JERRY BENNETT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—United Steelworkers Union President Dave McDonald tells this one on himself. He was introduced at a New York Saints and Sinners luncheon the other day by comedian Harry Herschfield.

"People forget that labor leaders are a good bit like other folks," began the speaker. "They're family men just like other people. They have parents and children like other people. The only difference is that when they tell their children bedtime stories, they begin, 'Once upon a time and a half. . .'"

BEST QUOTE of the week in Washington is attributed to Australian Prime Minister Arthur Gordon Menzies, speaking at the National Press Club.

"After 30 years in politics," he said, "nothing embarrasses me very much."

ON AN EARLIER visit to Washington, Prime Minister Menzies was invited to speak before an international study group. They didn't give the P.M. his customary drop of inspiration before the luncheon, and the meeting chairman, noticing that something was wrong, apologized. "Our society is just so poor," he said, "that we can't afford cocktails."

Mr. Menzies said that was all right and to forget it. Then he happened to remember that former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill had once spoken before this club. "You didn't omit on for him, did you?" asked the Australian.

The chairman smiled. "No, we didn't," he said. "We brought him a Scotch and water with a lot of ice in it, American fashion."

He took a sip, made a face and remarked, "The quality of this import has deteriorated. Something seems to have happened to it on the transatlantic crossing."

"I got the point," continued the chairman, "and sent it back for a double, no ice. When it came, Mr. Churchill took another sip, smiled and said, 'Ah, yes! Now I recognize the flavor quite distinctly.' And he made us a fine address."

AT A RECENT Congressional hearing on the selection of a national flower, Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.) came out in favor of Kentucky bluegrass.

Following Morton's speech, seed producer David Burpee made a pitch for marigolds and cracked, "There's only one thing that bothers me about the senator's idea. I would feel downright unpatriotic walking on the national floral emblem."

SCIENTISTS attending the National Missile Industry Conference at the Sheraton Park hotel were dismayed when they saw what was served at the conference's first big luncheon. Since the tickets for the affair cost four dollars, they had visions of munching on thick filets.

The main dish, however, turned out to be the paper-thin cold cuts followed by bread pudding and coffee. A Pentagon missile man observed, "If they had served beans and mustard with this, it would have been just like the Sunday evening mess at Ft. Benning, Ga."

NOT EVEN THE most scientific space journals can beat the President's executive orders in the use of technical gobbledygook. An example is the new White House order describing the President's coat of arms. It states:

"Behind and above the eagle a radiating glory or, on which appears an arc of 13 cloud puffs proper, and a constellation of 13 mullets argent."

EVERY FRIDAY the Pentagon's Navy Information Office hands up a sign with the letters T.G.I.F. printed on it.

Recently a tourist saw the sign and asked, "What does this office do? I know the letters T. G. stand for Tactical Group. But the other two have got me stumped."

The letters, of course, stand for "Thank God It's Friday."

WEEKLY BIBLE COMMENT

Wearing the Cross

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

An interesting and thoughtful letter has come to me from a woman confronted with the question of wearing the cross as a piece of jewelry.

A friend's mother had given her daughter a gold cross, which on the death of his "dearly loved" relative had come into the possession of my correspondent. She valued it for its obvious worth and beauty, and very deeply because of her affection for her friend. Also, as a sincere Christian, she has a deep sense of the meaning of the Cross of Christ. So for a time, she wore it on a chain.

"For so doing," my correspondent writes, "I was adversely criticized by a Christian who habitually found fault with those he named 'so-called Christians.' I told the critic that if I seemed to show disrespect by wearing the cross I would wear it no more, and I removed it at once."

The letter goes on to express some of her reflections, and hopes that I might help her.

I have counselled her to resume wearing the cross. In general, I deprecate wearing the cross as jewelry, particularly when it is worn without any deep or devout feeling, or response to the Cross of Christ.

I have never worn a cross myself, but where, as in the case of my correspondent, it is a symbol of the reality of human love, in relation to her friend, and of divine love in relation to the Cross of Christ, it seems to me a very different matter.

But whether to wear or not to wear a cross seems to me of much less importance than the matter of judging one another, and setting up one's particular standard for others.

One cannot be too scrupulous and conscientious in fidelity to his own standards and convictions; at the same time, if one is deeply Christian in humility and love he cannot be too careful or scrupulous about judging others.

It is a matter about which I feel strongly; partly because the spirit of divisiveness and of setting others right has so deeply cursed the history of religion, but also because I have seen how possible it is for Christians of very different attitudes to live together in harmony.

In a world torn with conflicts and with hate such harmony suggests what might be possible if Christian and sensible attitudes prevailed.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The gold rush is on, with TV's gunslingers heeding the cry, "go east, young man!"

This is the season for the Western stars to fill their pouches with loot from the hinterlands. They're heading east not by pony but by jet, to display themselves before admiring throngs at fairs, rodeos and whatever.

They sing a little, ride a little, tell jokes, rope and twirl their six-shooters. But mostly they just appear, smiling and signing autographs and basking in the popularity that television has brought them.

Figures released by the New Mexico State Fair Commission give evidence of the money to be had. Gene Barry (Bat Masterson) has been set for two appearances in one day at the September fair for $2,000; Dale Robertson (Wells Fargo) for six appearances in three days at $7,500. The Gunsmoke trio — Dennis Weaver, Amanda Blake, Milburn Stone — will come in for six appearances at $8,500.

Robert Horton (Wagon Train) is making hay this summer with such dates as the Cincinnati Rodeo, Tulsa Horse Show, as well as playing "Picnic" in Detroit and "Guys and Dolls" in Warren, Ohio. Chuck Connors and Young Johnny Crawford (The Rifleman) were booked for the St. Louis Police Circus and Omaha Rodeo.

Robert Culp (Trackdown) expects to earn $70,000 this year from personals, probably as much as he gets from the series. Among his dates: Lincoln, Neb., Centennial, Salina and Coffeyville, Kan.

Are You Edging Dad Right Out of the Old Ball Game?

You ought to get busy and lose some weight. (But if he frequently admires the good looks of the women you know who have kept their figures, you certainly ought to take it as a broad hint that he would like it better if there were a little less of you.)

You're a poor housekeeper. (But don't ignore the storm signals when he complains that he never can find anything in all the clutter or that you are out of some household necessity again, or suggests that you get the children to clean up their rooms.)

Your social life is pretty dull. (But if he says "not the Joneses, again" when you mention that the Joneses are going to drop by for an evening of bridge, you had better check up to see if you haven't narrowed your friendships to such an extent that your social life is in a rut.)

You no longer bother to listen when he tries to talk to you. (But if you've wondered why your husband doesn't talk about his work or his hobbies or discuss the books he reads with you, chances are you quit really listening to him a long time ago.)

You are so absorbed in the lives of your children that you don't have much time for him. (But if he looks disappointed when you tell him you can't go to a dinner or meeting with him because you've got to help Sis get dressed for a dance, or because Buddy has a line to say in the school play, look out. Your husband probably rightly feels that he shouldn't always be the one who can get along without you.)

He feels shut out of the family circle. (But when a man begins to say to his children, "You had better ask your Mother" it's time for his wife to start checking to see if she isn't taking over responsibilities that should be shared.)

Matter of FACT

The old city of Belgrade, Yugoslavia, built around the white castle that gave the city its name (from the Serbian word "beograd," meaning white castle), stood on a high bluff overlooking the Danube and Sava rivers. From this point an army can control the approach to the Balkans from the north, as well as the traffic on the two rivers. Consequently, in history, the city has changed hands repeatedly.

Milk and Dairy Products Lead June Plentiful Food

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

June is dairy month. It will flow with even greater prodigality than it did this time last year, with nonfat dry milk in extra heavy abundance.

Lots of good quality turkeys and broiler-fryers around, too. They fit deliciously into budget summertime meals.

Eggs are on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's list also. So are vegetable fats and oils and of course spring vegetables, including asparagus, new cabbage, celery, sweet corn. June brings salad days—abundance of lettuce, green peppers, tomatoes, scallions and cucumbers. Plenty of new potatoes in some markets and lots of strawberries from California and the northern states. So . . . "good appetite."

Green Pepper Boats
(Makes 6 servings)

Three green peppers, two 7-ounce cans tuna fish, drained and flaked; 2 eggs, beaten; 1 cup rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked), ¼ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon onion salt, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup cream style cottage cheese, 6 cheese squares, 6 pimento strips.

Cut peppers in half lengthwise. Remove seeds and wash thoroughly. Place in boiling water and parboil 5 minutes. Drain well. Heat oven to moderate (350 degrees F.) For the filling, mix together tuna fish, eggs, oats, seasonings and cottage cheese. Fill pepper halves. Place a cheese square on top of each. Bake in preheated oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Garnish with pimento strips.

Fresh Strawberries and Cream
(Yield: 5 to 6 servings)

Two cups (1 pint) sliced fresh strawberries, 1 tablespoon sugar, ¼ pound marshmallows, diced; ½ pint (1 cup) commercial sour cream, 5 to 6 whole uncapped fresh strawberries.

Combine strawberries and sugar. Let stand 10 minutes. Fold marshmallows and strawberries into sour cream. Refrigerate at least 1 hour before serving. Serve in sherbet glasses, each topped with a whole uncapped fresh strawberry.

Monday's Dinner: Hot turkey sandwiches with gravy, currant jelly, whipped potatoes, fresh asparagus, scallions and radishes, fresh strawberries and cream, coffee, tea, milk.

As I See It

by E. W. BROWN

Summertime is supposed to be the time when "the livin' is easy." Guess the hot months mean different things to different people . . . but to mothers with normal active children summer vacation has all the earmarks of a hurricane warning. As soon as the schools cut the leashes from their charges Mom has her hands as full as a fat boy at a taffy pull. The first week is not too much strain . . . but it doesn't take the kids long to accomplish all the important things they had dreamed about while they were penned up in school. Then comes the summer-long quiz program . . . What'll we do now, Mom? huh, Mom?" Mother often has a couple of ideas, but there are laws agin' 'em. Vacation sure is nice for teachers, though.

30 Year Farmer Near Kane Has 13 Inch Corn

JERSEYVILLE — Early planted corn is making a satisfactory growth in the Jersey county area in spite of cold nights and cool days. Fred Baker, who lives in the Jersey Panhandle locality, Kane Route One, was a Jerseyville visitor Friday afternoon and reported that he had finished cultivating some of his corn for the second time. He has some early planted corn that stands up to eighteen inches high.

Baker is one of the oldest farmers of the county who continues to work at farming, preferring to wear out than "rust" out sitting around. He was eighty years of age in January.

Last fall he husked his corn crop by hand, a pile of corn of more than fifteen hundred bushels. He utilized a team of horses which he retains for such tasks as plowing small patches, corn husking and garden work.

"I shucked all of my corn crop by hand last fall," Baker stated. "I knocked out around forty bushels a day until I had the crop all cribbed. I used my team and wagon for the hand shucking work.

"I keep a team on the farm all the time, for horses are mighty handy to save around for doing small jobs. I use a tractor for the main farm work of plowing and handling the larger acreages."

American farmers can expect their total 1959 net farm incomes to drop about $1 billion below last year, says a University of Illinois agricultural economist. This decline will be due largely to increased costs and reduced Soil Bank payments.

Arenzville Class Honors

CAROLE WESSLER

CAROL LEISCHNER

Carole Wessler will enter Millikin University, Decatur; and Carol Leischner will enter Illinois College, Jacksonville.

Plainview Man Asst. Adviser In Greene Co.

CARROLLTON—Bill Whitefield of Plainview, Ill., has accepted a position as assistant farm adviser in Greene county and will begin his work here June 15.

Whitefield, who is married, was a 4-H club member in Macoupin county for ten years and went to Greece as an International Youth Exchangee in 1953. He graduated from the University of Illinois in 1955 with a degree in agriculture and is graduating in June of this year with a Master's degree in animal nutrition from Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitefield plan to make their home in Carrollton as soon as living accomodations can be secured.

Product Pushing Goes 'Over Top' In Morgan County

Volunteer workers throughout Morgan county are in the completion stages of a successful solicitation program. The county-wide goal of $1,050 has already been passed and there are still several sources to be contacted.

The funds will be used to promote the sales and develop new uses for farm products; 20% of the total amount collected will remain in Morgan county for local use.

The Morgan County Farm Bureau sponsored the local solicitation of funds assisted by the women's committee. The funds will become a part of the State Farm Bureau's Agricultural Marketing Development and Promotion program. All funds will be administered on the recommendation of the statewide marketing committee of IAA board members consisting of farmers throughout the entire state.

Products covered will include principal crops grown in Morgan county as income producers.

One possibility would be to encourage everyone to eat two eggs and two strips of bacon for breakfast. In terms of marketing corn — this represents about four pounds of corn. The same four pounds of corn in the form of mush would feed a family of four until they were "mighty tired" of the dish.

A further report will be made as soon as the total collected is compiled.

4-H Club Activities

The Handy Helpers 4-H club met on June 1 at the home of Kay Pierce, president, who presided at the meeting.

Beverly Waggener spoke on "The Hazard Hunt Activity" and Joanne Petefish told "How to Store Yeast Breads."

Demonstrations included: Kay Pierce, "How to Put in Fruit Filling and Apply Top Crust to a Pie;" Prudi Ginder, "Preparing Frozen Vegetables for the Table."

The skit for the Share The Fun Festival was read and parts assigned by the leaders, Mrs. McGinnis and Mrs. Masten.

The next meeting will be held June 15 at the home of Linda and Carol Williams.

The 4-H pledge was led by Kay Pierce and the pledge to the American flag by Jackie Whitler.

Refreshments were served Kay Pierce and Jackie Whitler.

Illinois student milk consumption under the National School Lunch Program and the Special School Milk Program reached a record high in the 1958-59 school year—averaging 30.3 quarts of milk per student per year.

ELECTED YWCA SECRETARY

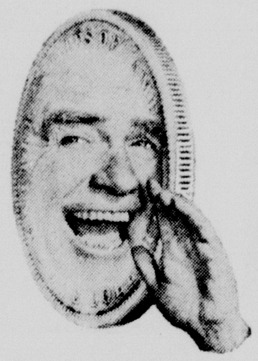

Gretchen Wright, daughter of Mrs. Lelia Wright, Assistant Dean of Women at MacMurray College, a junior at Wayland Academy, Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, has been elected secretary of the Wayland Y.W.C.A. This automatically makes her the chairman of the "Little Sister" program for the coming school year. Gretchen is shown beside the birthday cake of the organization when it recently celebrated its 75th anniversary. Wayland was one of the first Y.W. chapters to be organized in schools and colleges in 1884, and it has operated continuously since then. The Academy, a co-educational college preparatory school, closes its 104th year on June 14.

Chapter 10: Welcome News

Except for short pauses to rest the horses and prepare meals, the wagons rolled on and on and on, ever moving slowly westward.

"Water ahead!" called a man on horseback, who having ridden ahead of the wagon train, had spotted a small stream of clear water, where the horses and mules could be watered. Now he rode easily back along the trail, bringing the welcome news of a rest ahead.

Methodically, the wagons were pulled into a wide circle, and the teams unhitched from their burdens. Each man led his travel worn animals well into the gently flowing stream, where they stood quenching their thirst and cooling their bodies. Women and children, grateful for this pause, jumped down from the wagons, to splash cool clear water over their begrimed faces.

Time To Wash Up

Aunt Vira dipped a soft cloth in the stream, and began to wash Simon's face.

"I do declair, boy!" she exclaimed. "I washed those ears last night, myself. Now they look as though they hadn't been touched for a month!"

"Ah! Ma!" complained Simon, as he squirmed in her firm grasp. "I don't know why you ever bother to wash 'em. They're only goin' to get dirty again," he reasoned.

"Because they need it!" she stated firmly. "And whenever they need a good scrubbing, I'll see to it they get one."

Nosh Culp grinned and winked at the boy as he joined his little family. "It's no use complaining, Simon," he joked. "I 'spect she'll be washin' mine too before she's through."

"You bet I will," assured Elvira Culp, as she assumed authority over all dirty ears present. "Now how about yours, Emma Lou?" she asked as she turned and teasingly reached for the giggling little girl who had stood nearby watching Simon, as he continued to complain over the scrubbing he had received.

"Oh, mine are clean," she quickly nodded. "I just washed them myself." She laughed happily and put her arms around Aunt Vira's waist, and the pretty woman hugged her close.

During these past weeks, Emma Lou had learned to love all three of the Culps. Indeed, it would be difficult to part with such fun-loving folks as these. Only the happy reunion with her mother and father at Fort Laramie, could ease the pain of parting with these dear friends.

Noah Culp, having removed his stockings and boots, sighed in satisfaction and relief, as he lowered his feet into the cool water of the stream.

"M-m-m-m," he murmured. "That does feel good." He wriggled his toes in evident enjoyment. At last he turned to his little family.

"We ought to be in Fort Laramie by this time tomorrow," he informed them. "It's been a long hard trip, but we're almost to the end."

Next, Chapter 10: Injuns!"

Space Guard Serial—

DESTINATION EARTH

By Walter B. Hendrickson Jr.

Synopsis: Space Guard ensigns, Ed Speedwell and Jerry Symonds, are passengers on a space lift rocket taking off from Venus when one of the first stage motors bursts into flames. After the fire is put out, the rocket begins to collapse but the pilot saves the fourth stage and his passengers by launching it into orbit 200 miles above Venus. A space boat takes the passengers off to the orbit of Venus Space Station No. 1. When they arrive Jerry sees a line of flames heading away from Venus and says that it looks like they have missed the Space Ship Train to earth which has to leave at a certain time to avoid missing earth.

Chapter 3: Catching a Space Ship Train

"You're right," answered Ed, "we have missed the train. I see the Hercules is starting to blast off now."

Instead of turning off toward the space station the space boat accelerated after the last ship in the line—the Hercules.

"I'm glad these Ion drivers have a slow acceleration," said Jerry, "now we won't miss the train after all."

When the boat docked in its space lock aboard the Hercules the boat's pilot, Lieutenant James Cleveland, came into the passenger section and announced, "As soon as the train has reached cruising speed we will take you to your own ships. In the meantime, you will be guests of the Space Guard aboard the Hercules."

As the passengers left the space boat, Lt. Cleveland turned to Ed and Jerry and remarked, "I'm glad you fellows made it. I was afraid I'd have to run the space locks with just two men beside me."

After about three hours the space ship train reached cruising speed and the ships moved into a circle for the rest of the voyage back to earth. Ed and Jerry volunteered to take the passengers to their space ships.

Forgotten Space Bag

As they checked the space boat over after returning to the Hercules Jerry noticed an object sticking out of one of the seats.

"Say, it looks like some one forgot his space bag," said Jerry lifting the plastic ball out of the seat. "the identification on it says it belongs to a fellow named George Caldwell on the UNSS Marconi."

When the men reported their find to Lt. Cleveland, he looked up the position of the Marconi in the Space Ship Train. Then he turned to Ed and Jerry and said, "While you men take Caldwell's bag back in the Hercules I, Edward and I will get the Hercules II ready in case of an emergency."

Short Flight

"Why bother to use a space boat, sir?" asked Ed, "after all the Marconi is right next door. We could go over there and back in space suits."

"Sure we could," added Jerry, "besides we need the practice handling space suits after our leave on Venus."

"All right," said Lt. Cleveland. "I'll phone the Control Room and tell them you're going out in space suits."

Soon Ed and Jerry were hurtling toward Marconi trailing their lifelines behind them. As they neared the radio ship's air they passed into the shadow of the living sphere of the ship.

"I'm glad the Captain of the Marconi placed his ship so that the fuel tanks reflect sun light into the shadow of the cabin," Jerry said over the space suit radio, "it saves us the power for lights."

Suddenly part of the hull of the Marconi collapsed and Ed and Jerry were engulfed by flying debris.

Little Snow Chief

By Mary Pence Claywell

Part 1: Puppy Days

I am a little white Spitz puppy, coming of Pomeranian ancestors, and while I am only a baby now, I will reach a weight of almost 12 pounds when I am grown.

I live with my mother, and a little brother and sister, in a small dog house on the lawn. We are very happy during these first three weeks of my life. I found the big yard, which is our world thusfar, and the soft, green grass and trees very beautiful; that is, after the first nine days of my life.

Nine Dark Days

You see, a small puppy's eyes are closed tight when he is born, and they do not open until he is around nine days old. At first, I found myself peeping through little cracks, but each day my eyes opened a little wider and finally now they are big and round and bright.

While my eyes were closed about all I did was to crawl around over my mother hunting for my dinner, and nosing my brother and sister away when they tried to horn in and take my little fountain of warm milk. "Find yourself one," I would growl!

But at the end of three weeks, something happend that almost broke my heart. Yet, I was soon to get over it and lead a very happy life for the next 15 years with the kind lady who called to see my brother, sister and me.

She pulled up in a car and hopped out, and began talking to my first mistress; but all the time . . . she had her eye on us.

No wonder she admired us; our snow white hair is soft, long and silky, and our bushy tails resembel pretty curly plumes; our ears and muzzles are sharp, and if I do say so myself, we are beautiful!

C Q Radio Hams —

Novice Ticket Steps

By Joseph A. Smith

Home Stretch

This is the "Home Stretch." The next step should be the actual taking of the Novice Exam!

If you have not done so already, it would be wise to contact a local "Ham" friend (holder of a General class or higher amateur license), become acquainted with him, inform him as to your present code speed if it is around 7 W.P.M.

At the same time you might inquire of him as to a possible date when he could or would be able to supervise your Novice exam and give you the required code test.

It is most wise to build up your code speed to around 7 W.P.M. so as to allow for nervousness which some experience while actually in the act of taking the code test. Still, don't worry about it. Just be SURE that your code speed is BETTER than the required 5 W.P.M.

Code practice now should include actual copy of "on the air" signals including the Monday, Wednesday, and Friday WIAW practice code sessions etc. if at all possible. Furthermore, "Lessons In Sending" (pages 45 to 47 in the code study manual) will help.

To boost your speed you should always copy a signal that is being transmitted at a speed somewhat faster than you can easily copy. If a code tape machine is available, speed can be built up in the same manner.

In any event, SPEED IS SECONDARY TO ACCURACY! Therefore, strive for ACCURACY and speed will come with time and steady practice. While you may start out printing the code as you copy it down on paper, it will soon become quite evident that once your copying speed reaches and exceeds 10 W.P.M. this method of copying must be changed to regular writing. This, in turn, is fine up to around 17 or 18 W.P.M. Above this you must either read the code in your head or type it out.

"On The Air" Techniques

All too often proper operating "on the air" techniques are sadly overlooked as the prospective Novice forks for that ticket, but the way in which you conduct a QSO tells a lot on the type of "Ham" you as the operator really are. So listen carefully to a number of more experienced "Hams" over the air, read the A.R.R.L. Handbook section on proper operational techniques, or write to the A.R.R.L. Headquarters, West Hartford 7, Conn. for their FREE booklet about this.

THINK WHAT YOU WANT TO SAY, DON'T BE CARELESS IN SENDING WITH ANY KEY, AND NEVER SEND FASTER THAN YOU CAN RECEIVE! Don't send out long winded "CQs;" three "CQs" followed by your call letters twice (and this combination repeated 5 or 6 times) is usually PLENTY.

Listen on your frequency first, BEFORE calling CQ. Afterall, someone else just might already be doing so there.

Be SURE the rig is properly loaded up and tuned to resonance. NEVER operate a chirping transmitter on the air or one showing traces of A.C. Hum on its carrier. The F.C.C. in Washington, D. C. will be most unhappy over it!

Next week, B.C.I. and T.V.I. information will be given.

What Do You Think?

By Jerry Lawless

Two Ways To Think

Both inductive and deductive thinking processes are essential for straight thinking.

While deductive decisions are those which seem to logically follow from the evidence at hand, inductive decisions are those that are reached through the culmination and examination of both actual evidences and hypotheses.

Herein lies the ways of making life's right decisions. However, in inductive or deductive thinking, we must be sure, before reaching conclusions, that the method and the form of our reasonings is valid.

This certainty or uncertainty, as the case may be, is most easily found syllogistically. That is, by applying the argument in question to the various forms of syllogisms, we can find out if that argument is logically sound.

Summer Cycling Can Be Fun

By Joseph A. Smith

There's hardly a one among our readers who doesn't enjoy riding his bicycle far and wide. For, as the old Indian once said "White man him lazy; him walk sitting down!" But it's not just fun, it's healthful as well.

As we get a little older we like to take trips to new and strange places, go fishing, take a small pack and stay out over night, or similar activities.

But cycling in a group can be more fun. It's not hard to get going either.

First of all find several cyclists your age who like to ride on cycle outings as you do. Next get your dad to help you as advisor, then get your small group together at your home some evening and, in rapid order, choose a club name, a Trip Captain and his assistant, and a club president. The president presides over any group meetings, while the Trip Captain and assistant are in complete command on ALL trips, and responsible to see club riding rules of safety are followed by every rider. Cycling single file is one rule that's a MUST!

First Trip

Now decide on your first trip. Start out with a short trip of say five miles and gradually lengthen each trip thereafter.

Let's make it real fun; plan a fishing trip, a swim (in season), a cookout, a ride to a park etc., or a series of riding contests.

Before you start out the Trip Captain and assistant should check each bike: he should see that ALL bikes are in good shape. (Did you ever end up walking the last five miles or so?)

It would be wise to have a small first aid kit, a cold patch tire kit, some tools, a couple of valve cores, and a couple of master chain links along with the group as spares.

If the trip is some ten or more miles long a sandwich or a candy bar in the pocket will be a welcome treat along the way. A water canteen is another good idea.

Get together once a week if possible. Ride somewhere different each time.

One good event that is always a success is a group contest. Include such events as these:

(1) Zig-zag race— (In and around stakes put up in a straight line and four or five feet apart.)

(2) Short Distance Race—To an object and return relay by teams.

(3) Treasure Hunt. (4) Ride a long plank. (5) Slow Race. (6) Cross-Country distance race over agreed upon course.

(7) Hare and Hound race or chase across country.

This is but a small part of the fun you can have on your outings. So wheels away!

I LIKE TO SMELL

BURR OAK AND OSAGE ORANGE

By Rip Barnsdall

The bark of the burr oak is much more fire resistant than most trees. The deeply furrowed bark, and the leaf that almost looks as if it were cut in two are distinguishing marks to look for. It belongs to the White Oak group.

Osage Orange became well known in the midwest largely due to the efforts of Jonathan Turner (for whom the Junior High School is named). The wood of this tree was used in many ways by the Indians.

The fruit (not edible) of the Osage Orange looks something like a big green orange. It has rounded bumps and furrows that make it look something like a brain. There is a milky liquid inside.

Margaret Mullens And Donald Dalton Exchange Vows At Salem Lutheran Church

The Salem Lutheran church in Jacksonville was the scene Sunday afternoon, May thirty-first, of the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Margaret Louise Mullens and Donald Dean Dalton of Jacksonville. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Mullens of route four and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dalton, 321 East Beecher avenue.

White carnations and fern adorned the altar of the church illuminated by slim white tapers in branched candelabra.

RUSSIA ON WHEELS---(4) The Lengthening Rails

Because Russia's railroad tracks are wider than those of its neighbors, transportation across international borders poses a problem.

Quicker than moving goods or passengers from one train to another is changing the wheels. At left, passenger car is hoisted while new trucks are attached underneath. Note women window cleaners. Due to manpower shortage, Russian women perform many heavy tasks in the Soviet economy.

Streamlined steam engine, center, is similar to an American type of a number of years ago. Increased use of electric power is making such engines obsolete.

As Russia's ally Red China grows in strength, communications between the two countries are being expanded. In addition to regular jet airliner service between Peiping and Moscow, a new, faster rail link has just been opened, as shown on map.

the travel-lovin' Chevrolet

Nothing else but a dyed-in-the-wool sports car like the Corvette can take a turn with the solid assurance of this sweet-handling Chevrolet. Drive it—and feel the extra smoothness and stability born of Chevy's better balance and supple full coil springs.

It's easy to see where Chevrolet gets its road sense. With big coil springs at every wheel, a firm, wider stance and all of its pounds distributed with painstaking care, Chevy's born with it.

The only thing that may be hard to understand is how it can offer the ride it does, along with so many other luxury-car virtues, and still compete in the low-price field.

We use the word compete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. Take a Chevy down a snaky back road and you'll feel the difference in the sure way it holds through curves and shoots over rough spots with hardly a ripple. This one's made to travel and loves every minute of it.

This Was D-Day, 15 Years Ago

Close-Up Of Four Ranger Companies

Editor's Note—Ranger units hit the beach in Normandy at H-Hour on D-Day, 15 years ago Saturday. With them was G. K. Hodenfield, a combat correspondent for Stars and Stripes, now the AP's education writer. Hodenfield recalls the incredible feats of four Ranger companies in this article on D-Day.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

The story of four companies of the U. S. 2nd Ranger Battalion, and their assault on a heavily fortified position in Normandy on June 6, 7 and 8, 1944, is not the big picture of D-Day. That's for generals and historians.

It's not even the little picture of an isolated action.

Maybe it's not even a story at all—just the things that one man who was with them remembers best from the greatest experience of his life.

The story of D-Day has to be a story of courage. Maybe that's why, whenever I think of D-Day, I remember Sgt. Bob Youso and Pvt. Alvin White.

The Ranger assignment on D Day was to land precisely at H-Hour (6:30 a. m.) on a rocky shelf of beach barely 15 feet wide, scramble up sheer cliffs more than 100 feet high, and destroy six 155mm guns protected by crack German trops and tons of concrete.

But somebody goofed. The guide boat sent along by the Royal Navy headed for the wrong beach. By the time we reached our landing area: (1) we were 38 minutes late, (2) the naval barrage that was supposed to drive the enemy to cover had long since lifted, and (3) German soldiers lined the cliff tops, peppering us with rifle fire and hand grenades.

As the assault craft crunched to a stop, the Rangers fired a series of rockets that went up and over the cliffs with a loud "whoosh." Attached to the rockets were six-pronged grapnel hoks. Attached to the hooks were long rope ladders. The Rangers pulled on the ropes until the grapnel hooks bit into the dirt, then scrambled up the ladders.

The rockets drove the Germans back, but only momentarily. They had returned by the time Youso and White were clambering to the cliff top. How those two men made it, I'll never know. But they did, and when they got there they chased the Germans back and made it possible for other Rangers to follow them.

The big guns were spiked with thermite grenades, then the Rangers dug in for the fight of their lives. There were Germans in front of them, the cliffs and the English channel behind them, no supplies or reinforcements available. We were going to hang on, or get killed trying. It appeared pretty obvious we were all going to get killed.

Which brings me back to Youso and White. They were out on the left flank, anchoring one end of a very thin line. About 200 yards away was a German machine-gun nest which was cutting our men down every time they showed their heads.

Youso and White, armed only with rifles and grenades, went after the machine gunner. To get him they had to snake along in the weeds through a German minefield. One false move and they'd be shot dead or blown to kingdom come.

Maybe 30 minutes later they were back. Youso had been shot through the elbow, White through the knee. But the machine-gun nest had been wiped out.

Going up the cliffs, Youso and White had shown one kind of courage—the kind born of desperation and excitement. Here they had shown another kind—the cool, calculated courage that overcomes fear of overwhelming odds.

But there's still another kind of courage. I remember Capt. Walter Block, our medic.

Doc set up a sort of base hospital in a concrete dugout. There was room for about 15 or 16 patients, and that wasn't nearly enough. At times there were so many wounded men that most had to be left outside until somebody inside died or was patched up enough to return to battle.

In the afternoon on the first day, Doc was called outside to look at a badly wounded officer. The officer was unconscious, barely breathing.

Doc took a quick look, "You'll have to leave him out here. There's nothing I can do for him." He walked back into the dugout. The man he left to die untended and alone was a man who for years had been Doc's closest and dearest friend.

I think it tok courage, too, for Ranger Robin to do what he did.

Ranger Robin was a platoon leader, and the last I heard he was still in the Army. I hope so; he's a good guy to have on our side. Anyway, on the second day of the invasion Ranger Robin led a patrol behind the German lines to get prisoners for questioning. He was on his way back with about a dozen of them when the Germans counterattacked and threatened to chase the Rangers right off the cliffs.

Ranger Robin and five or six of his men, plus the prisoners, were crouched in a huge shell hole, with German troops all around them. Ranger Robin told his men to take off, one at a time, and get back to our lines as best they could. His sergeant, the last to leave, asked Robin what he was going to do about the prisoners.

"Don't you worry about that, I'll handle it," he replied.

When he was alone with the prisoners, Ranger Robin turned his tommy gun on them and killed them all. Then he made his way back to our comand post.

You could say his act was that of a coward, more than of a hero. But I'll argue with ou on that. Ranger Robin was tough, but he was no murderer.y He shot down 12 defenseless men in cold blood because he was a Ranger, and the Rangers were fighting for their lives. I got to know him well enough to know that those 12 German prisoners will haunt him as long as he lives.

If you were there on D-Day you knw a dozen stories like this. If you weren't, you've heard about them.

D-Day was a terribly personal thing to the men who were there. You fought with a group, but the excitement that was like intoxication, and the fear that was like a clammy chill—those were yours alone. You couldnt share them, you couldn't talk about them, you couldn't even acknowledge them.

And what you remember best are not people, and places, and things.

You remember how you felt:

The amazement, on D-Day, when you suddenly realized that, although you had always considered yourself a coward, at this particular time and place you weren't a coward. Scared stiff, yes, but not a coward.

The resignation on D plus one, to death at any moment; and pride that you could accept it without panic.

The anger, outraged and insane, on D plus two, at the men of the U.S. 29th Division who broke through on the left flank and fired first and looked later. They killed two Rangers, wounded 13.

Most of all, when it was all over, the terrible, unshakable lonesomeness—the sense of deep and personal loss. Of the landing force of 230 Rangers, only 52 were able to walk away.

These things you'll never forget.

Alcatraz Island, in San Francisco Bay, derives its name from the pelicans which roosted there in Spanish days.

Patricia Lahey, John Bowman Exchange Nuptial Vows At Our Saviour's Church

The Reverend Robert Morris performed the double ring ceremony the morning of Saturday, May thirtieth, at the Church of Our Saviour uniting in marriage Miss Patricia Lahey and John C. Bowman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lahey, Jacksonville route four and the groom is the son of Clayton Bowman, Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin.

White glads adorned the altar of the church. Before the ceremony, accompanied by Mrs. Alta Eisch, Miss Celeste Flynn and Miss Margaret Devore, offered vocal selections.

Miss Mildred Cooney was maid of honor and the bride's cousin, Miss Margaret Carrigan, was bridesmaid. A niece, Barbara Ann Lahey and a nephew of the bride, Terry Lahey, served as flower girl and ring bearer.

Daniel Lahey, brother of the bride, was best man and another brother, Bernard, was groomsman. Ushers were William Tarzwell, Chicago and Martin Burke.

Lace and Organza Gown

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a classic gown of white Chantilly lace and organza fashioned with torso bodice in lace fitting snug to the hipline to meet the billowing skirt of gathered organza ending in Chapel train. The lace bodice had a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves coming to points over the hands.

The attendants were gowned alike in embrodered nylon with matching headdresses. Miss Cooney wore lilac and Miss Carrigan yellow. Each carried a basket of carnations tinted to match their respective costumes.

The flower girl wore pink nylon and the ringbearer carried rings on a satin pillow.

Parents Have Reception

From two to four o'clock in the afternoon guests were received at a reception held at the home of the bride's parents. A four tiered wedding cake featured the serving table. The confection was frosted white and trimmed in orchid. Miss Rosemary Lonergan cut the wedding cake and assisting with the serving were Mrs. Larry Pennell, Mrs. Bernard Kindred and Mrs. Richard Mebrugge.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowman will make their home in Chicago where both are employed.

Among out of town guests were Dr. Joseph Tortolero and Miss Lois Leaf of Chicago.

Miss Rhoda Ann Baker, youngest daughter of the R. Karl Bakers, 13 Jones Place, and Lieutenant James Hlavacek, U.S. Air Force, exchanged nuptial vows in an afternoon ceremony performed at First United Presbyterian church Saturday, May thirty. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Fred Tyrell with Mr. Baker giving his daughter in marriage. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hlavacek of Niles, Illinois.

Baskets of white glads and daisies, with stock, adorned the altar of the church. Candelabra held slim tapers and greenery completed appointments at the altar. White bows marked family pews.

Robert Wegehoft presided at the organ during the nuptial prelude for which Miss Margaret Hodgkinson sang "Because," and during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Max Whitman of Forest Park, the bride's only sister and the former Sandra Baker of Jacksonville, was matron of honor. Richard Thorpe of Chicago, fraternity brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Ushers were Max Whitman, Forest Park, and Gene Hlavacek, Skokie, uncle of the bridegroom.

Gowned In Lace

A high midriff emphasized the small waistline of the bodice enhanced with a square cut Sabrina neckline and brief sleeves. The gown's skirt was full and ballerina length. She wore a snug fitting satin headdress with a short veil. Shell pumps in satin matched her headdress. She carried a hand bouquet of showered white roses, centered with pink buds.

Mrs. Whiteman wore a pink lace sheath. Her headdress matched her dress and her flowers, a nosegay arrangement of carnations and roses, were in a shade deeper pink than her costume.

Mrs. Baker chose for Rhoda's wedding a white embroidered ice blue sheath. Her shoes matched her dress. A Cattleya orchid completed her costume. The groom's mother wore beige lace with matching color accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Approximately $3 may be taken to camp for such items as cokes, candy or crafts. This year campers will be in charge of their own finances.

Wildlife conservation camp will be held at Monticello, Aug. 3-7.

Forestry camp will be held at Southern 4-H Camp, Aug. 9-16. 4-H leaders who have boys 14 years of age or older may submit names of those interested until July 1.

4-H leaders discussed the possibility of organizing a county 4-H club for boys and girls between the ages of 18-21. Individuals out of high school or those going to college would be elibible. An attempt will be made to organize a club of this type during August.

A committee composed of Norman Leonhard, Floyd Miller and Ruel Jurgens along with the advisers will meet to revise the point system used in determining what was previously known as the club of the year award. The plan is to award honors to more than one club or as many clubs as attain a certain number of points determined by a score card. This system will replace the Club of the Year Award in which only one club can be chosen for outstanding achievement.

Attention is called to a particular rule change pertaining to swine shown at the 4-H Fair. A pen of barrows will consist of two barrows instead of the usual three as formerly required and barrows will require a certificate from their breed association certifying that they are eligible to register. This can be secured from the breed association free of charge. All barrows that do not have certificates of eligibility will show in the other breeds class. A copy of all Fair Rules will be sent to 4-H members soon.

Every three years it is necessary to make a representative testing of the breeding cattle in each county. This is necessary to maintain Cass county on the accredited list. Dr. W. R. Sanderson, federal veterinarian of Havana, and Dr. Joe Curry of Beardstown, will spend most of the month of June in Cass county doing this work. Farmers with breeding herds are requested to cooperate with the veterinarian in making this test successful.

NEW HOME SERIES

NO. 6

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Herrin, No. 8 Bellvue Drive, Grandview Terrace, is designed with distinction for gracious living.

Good design achieves long, low lines, punctuated by units of casement windows. The clever use of a Georgian Marble wall on the flagstone terrace, the addition of a colorful planter, the use of double paneled doors, painted black, accented by large ornamental brass knobs, and flanked by ceiling high glass panels, all add design interest. Roman brick and battened vertical siding combine to provide effective contrast for the exterior. A handsome exterior that keynotes the charm and individual quality of this home is only the beginning of its many features.

Just inside the entry, an attractive open foyer, dramatized by a brick planting wall, welcomes you, and permits passage to any section of the house, without any room being used as a corridor. A coat closet with Bi-fold doors is provided for the convenience of guests. One step down from the foyer is the spacious sunken-living room. . . . An unusual brass railing on the foyer side adds to the decorative effect on the opposite side—a wall of floor-to-ceiling glass panels, illuminated by indirect lighting, overlooks a patio. The striking fireplace set into a full wall of Georgian White Marble, features a wide hearth raised from the floor that extends as a seat, and is a handsome note in this distinctive room. A wood storage compartment is built into the marble wall, and open shelves with a recessed TV are built into walnut paneling beside the fireplace. The floor-to-ceiling glass paneled wall extends into the balconied dining room, one step up from the living room, and a door opens to the patio, which provides extra space for entertaining during pleasant weather.

Swinging louvered doors are featured between the dining room and kitchen. The kitchen is a perfect complement to modern living and features every work-saving convenience. Turquoise cabinets and their ingenious use, play a big role in the execution of efficient planning, separating the areas in orderly manner, supplying plenty of work space and storage, as well as a convenient planning desk. Space is incorporated under the front windows of the kitchen for an informal dining area. Adjacent to the kitchen is a family room with walls paneled in cherry. The focal point of this room is an entire wall of bookshelves with a built-in TV niche and hinged cupboards below for storage. A door connects this room to a hallway where there is a work-saving arrangement which includes a laundry alcove concealed by a sliding door, a lavatory, a storage closet, the back door, also a door that opens into the fir paneled garage which offers storage for two cars. The stairway to the basement is easily accessible from the kitchen and back door and leads to a masterful recreation room. A brick fireplace with raised hearth gives this room a festive air, and a second kitchen with a convenient soda bar makes it a perfect spot for informal entertaining. Adjacent to the recreation room, separated by louvered doors, there is sports room for the Junior set. Vinyl tile floors and ceilings of textured cushion tone tile are used to good effect in these rooms.

The Herrin's have a daughter and two sons, and the key to the success of their home is that it gives a fair share of independence to both parents and children for recreation, and for complete individual privacy in well-planned bedrooms.

To the left of the entry foyer, there is a center hall off of which there are four bedrooms, and a compartmented bathroom providing two lavatories built in the vanity counter with a full width mirror above, a full tub with shower and a separate shower compartment with glass enclosure. The first bedroom is occupied by Mark age 7, the second bedroom has walls of cedar paneling and is the domain of Mike age 11, their daughter, Luwana, is at home in the third bedroom which features a large walk-in closet and a display cabinet for her doll collection. Each bedroom has exceptionaly complete storage, all closets include a built-in chest of drawers, shoe compartment, and clothes hamper. The fourth or master bedroom has a full wall closet with triple sliding doors, a walk-in closet 12 feet deep, and units of drawers incorporated in the wall on either side of the door to the adjoining dressing room. To complete this suite, a superbly planned bed-dressing room arrangement features a built-in vanity, a full width mirror, and a Roman bath of ceramic tile, all typical of the particular type of luxury planned for this home.

Personal Grudge Sets Off Ecuador's Trouble

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador (AP) — Ecuador's biggest disturbance in years grew out of a personal grudge between a raw army recruit and his spit-and-polish captain.

Within a week at least 26 persons were dead, including the soldier and officer, and 150 were injured.

The entire country is under martial law.

President Camilo Ponce in decreeing martial law declared he was acting "to save the republic from anarchy and aggression." His press officer charged that Communists exploited last week's initial outbreak at Porte Viejo, brought on by a squabble between recruit Pablo Antonio Garcia and Capt. Galo Quevado.

The trouble between the soldier and his captain broke out May 28 in Porto Viejo.

A witness said the recruit thought the captain was assigning him all the dirty details, and taking away some of his privileges.

When the recruits started out on a training exercise, the soldier lagged behind. At the first chance, he opened fire on the captain.

The officer fell to the ground and the soldier turned the gun on himself and committed suicide. The captain was unhurt.

When the captain showed up the next day at the soldier's funeral, the youth's mother threw rocks at him. Others began pushing him around and in seconds the mourners were ready to lynch him. The captain fled.

Recruits, soldiers and even youngsters, marched to the officers club and set fire to the building and fired shot after shot into it. The captain—his uniform and hair aflame—staggered out.

The rioters pumped bullets into the captain.

They threw a rope around his neck and dragged him through the streets, then dumped his body in a cemetery.

Down To The Sea In A Sheath Suit

Some Swimsuits Are Ideal For Sunning

No matter whether you just sit by the pool in the sun or actually take the plunge, you can look pretty in the process. Most swim suits were designed both for sun and swimming though some are more purely decorative than others. All three of the suits shown here will take to water nicely and to sun as well. Fresh carnations bloom (left) on satin lastex. Carnations are red on a white ground; suit is simply styled to bring out the beauty of the print. Dressmaker suit (center) is teamed with jacket for trips to the pool. And there's a skirt, which the model holds in one hand, to turn the suit into a sundress. The slim sheath in black (right) has tailored bengaline bow at the bodice.

BY GAILE DUGAS,
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Not every gal who buys a swimsuit necessarily goes swimming. By and large, the feminine population is divided into two camps: the swimmers and the sitters.

If you sit, on sand, at poolside or by the lake, your suit can be somewhat more decorative, less streamlined and in a fabric which will dry clean. After all, what you want to do is acquire a tan and look pretty in the process.

But for the active swimmer, this is out. Her best choice is the knitted maillot or sheath, streamlined, one-piece and sleek. This allows for freedom of action and perfect comfort. A wool or an elasticized knitted suit will dry off fast when she comes out of the water. The swimmer is likely to don an absorbent terry beach coat when she comes out to join the landlubbers.

The beach sitter has no such problem and can therefore indulge herself in purely ornamental beach jackets bright with really beautiful embroidery. For her, there are the polished, satiny cottons, the heavy linens and the wool jerseys. They serve to keep off the breezes or ward off the sun and they're not required to sop up water.

When you buy a swimsuit, know your own needs and buy your beach jacket at the same time. You can try them on together and thus be assured that they really do team up well.

Journey To Love

By Virginia Nielsen

© 1959 by Virginia Nielsen. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Kathie has met Ebenezer Ward, owner of the property to which Kathie had a deed left to her by her uncle Job Hammer. Ward is the grandfather of Sam Ward, a young man Kathie met on the trip from San Francisco.

• • •

XVIII

Somewhat to Kathie's surprise, Sam did not accompany her into his grandfather's office. When she had passed the old man, who stood holding the door for her, he closed it.

"Sit down, please," he said. His manner was courtly but faintly arrogant. He wore a tropical business suit, but on his feet were odd, Oriental-style sandals. Kathie watched him as he shuffled across the carpet to seat himself behind his desk.

He was older than Uncle Job had been, she guessed. He reminded her of a dry leaf, wizened and wrinkled.

"You are aware that I am interested in an unrecorded deed you claim to have," he began at once, faintly emphasizing "unrecorded" and "claim." He continued, and now Kathie was sure of the contempt in his dry old voice:

"Your deed has no value whatever."

"If it is worthless, Mr. Ward," Kathie asked, "why did you send Sam to the mainland to find me? And when he had found me, why did he pretend he knew nothing at all about me or the deed?"

"My dear Miss Ebberts, I will be frank with you," Mr. Ward said. "An instrument such as you claim to have represents a mild threat to my interests. Unfortunately, there are certain lawyers who would be willing to make a lawsuit out of it. They might even be able to get an injunction that would tie up my business while the suit was in progress. And while I would not doubt the outcome of any such suit, I would deplore the interference with my business. Now do you understand why I sent Sam to investigate?

"As for what you call his secretiveness," he suddenly added, "Sam is young and in some ways still rather irresponsible. When he reported that you had engaged passage for a trip to Honolulu, I cabled him to return home—that I preferred to deal with you personally."

"But if the deed is worthless, Mr. Ward," Kathie said innocently, "I don't understand why Uncle Job had it at all."

• • •

"My dear girl," the man answered, impatience obvious in his voice, "I bought this property from Phineas Redd for $5,000 some 40 years ago, and the deed has been on record almost that long. Where your uncle got his deed, or why, I have no idea. But both your deed and mine can't be genuine, or Phineas Redd sold this property twice. And if your deed is the genuine one, why didn't Job Hammer have it recorded? Why did he never claim the property or challenge my deed?"

Kathie sighed and shook her head. "You needn't worry, Mr. Ward," she said, and rose to her feet. "I'll be frank with you, too. I haven't money enough to take the deed into court even if I wanted to."

"I appreciate your honesty," the old man said drily, and his tone made Kathie realize that he probably knew all about her financial situation. "In return, I am going to make you a generous offer. Just as a matter of insurance for the hotel, I am going to buy your deed for $5,000. The amount I paid Phineas Redd for the property, and so it would represent the value of your uncle's deed at the time it was executed—if it were valid."

He was smiling at her now, his keen old eyes somewhat warmer. He did know how little money she had, Kathie realized, and began to wonder if he were just being kind.

But she hesitated.

He pulled open a drawer and took out a large ledger-style checkbook. "Do you have the deed with you?"

"No. It's in a safe deposit box."

For a moment his eyes held hers. Then he put away the checkbook. "Bring it, and I will give you $5,000," he repeated.

"I'll think it over."

"Very well." His manner dismissed the subject. "You are comfortable? Your room is satisfactory?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"Good. I'll let you go back to Sam now. I'm sure he's getting impatient. You are very pretty, my dear."

Kathie flushed. "Thank you."

• • •

He opened the door of his office and followed her into the living room, where Sam stood before the long windows, smoking.

"She's a nice girl," his grandfather said. "Are you going to marry her?"

Sam's look as he turned around was startled. He laughed, "Now, wait a minute, Grandfather. You're rushing us! But it isn't a bad idea."

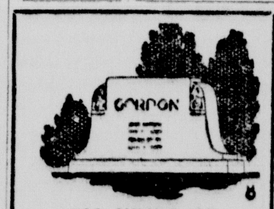

She was thankful for his light tone.

"I'm tied up with Grandfather until late this afternoon," he said apologetically. "He wants to go over some business with me. I'll call you when I can."

A few minutes later, after the elevator doors had separated them, she realized that his kiss had not had any effect upon her. Her emotions were confused, and she was afraid to trust them.

LABOR OF FAITH

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—The 40-member congregation of the Lockport Gospel Center Assembly of God has a do-it-yourself church building project.

Under the direction of the Rev. Gordon R. Bender, the congregation is using Army surplus materials, including a chapel building which was dismantled and moved, flooring torn out of an old high school, and other supplies to erect a church of its own. The congregation provides all the labor.

There are about 54 curves on an eight-mile section of U. S. Route 95, which is known as the Lewiston Spiral Highway.
